WIDOW IS INDICTED IN OESTERREICH DEATH

Will Face Trial With "Attic Lover" for Husband's Murder.

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(AP)—The bonds of illicit love which were alleged to have existed for 11 years between Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and Otto Sanhuber Oesterreich, a wealthy manufacturer, were replaced today by a joint murder indictment from the county grand jury for the killing of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, wealthy Milwaukee manufacturer.

Thus the state cleared a legal path toward a solution of the killing. The wealthy manufacturer was found dead in a hallway of his home and his widow imprisoned in a closet.

This afternoon in rapid succession the widow was brought to superior court for arraignment and Sanhuber court for arraignment and Sanhuber pleaded. The indictment displaced a previous charge of murder which the grand jury had voted against Sanhuber alone.

Mrs. Oesterreich was remanded to the county jail and ordered to enter a plea April 21. Sanhuber pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity and was ordered to trial on the same date.

Sanhuber's alleged confession told of a secret life in hidden garret compartments of the Oesterreich homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles from 1911 to the time of the murder, August 22, 1922. In these attic rooms, the document stated, he lived unknown to Oesterreich as the lover of Mrs. Oesterreich.

The night of the slaying, the confession read, he heard the husband and wife quarreling. Fearing that the woman might be harmed, he slipped from his cubbyhole and faced Oesterreich. The two men struggled and Sanhuber shot Oesterreich. Then he fled to his closet and crawled back to his retreat.

There he remained until police finally abandoned the mysterious case. He then obtained work here under the name of Walter Klein.

During his voluntary imprisonment in the house he was discovered by Herman Shapiro, an attorney who was representing Mrs. Oesterreich at the time of the original investigation. Shapiro kept the secret until several weeks ago, when he claimed the widow threatened his life in reply to his efforts to collect legal fees. Oesterreich left an estate valued at $750,000.

Atlanta Weathers Financial Crisis

Any danger of an immediate crisis in municipal financial affairs has been weathered successfully, it was announced Thursday by E. G. Gramam, West, city controller, who declared that April 15 pay rolls have been met.

Tax collections will begin to come in May 1, and $170,000 is due the borough from the state educational fund and $397,500 from the sale of street improvement bonds. This will enable the borough to meet May 1 pay rolls and by May 15 tax funds will be available.

Judge's Action Frees 'Pint-Lifer' Convict

FLINT, Mich., April 17.—(AP)—Channie Tripp, the first man in Michigan to go to prison for life on the basis of four liquor law violations, was free today. His sentence under the habitual criminal clause of the state criminal code was quashed by Judge James S. Parker yesterday.

Judge Parker expunged the case against Tripp and 33 other liquor law violators from the records on the motion of prosecutor Charles D. Beagle.

The way for Tripp's release was paved by the last state legislature, which amended the habitual criminal code to remove liquor offenses from the classification of felonies.

The full program for the three-hour service, noon until 3 o'clock, and the subject of seven addresses to consume about 14 minutes each to be held today at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Peachtree and Alexander streets, was announced Thursday by Rev. N. H. High Moor, rector.

This evening at 8 o'clock, Dr. Moor also announced, St. Luke's choir of 45 voices under the direction of Hugh Hodgson will present the cantata, "The Seven Last Words," written in 1867 by Dubois, the great French composer. Hymn—"I Hungry and I Thirst." Fifth address—"Thirst."

Hymn—"Abide With Me." Seventh address—"Father, Into Thy Hands I Commit My Spirit."

Silent prayer—Benediction. Organ solo—"The Strife Is Over." (Persons who are unable to remain throughout the entire service are asked to retire during the singing of the hymns.)

Mr. Moor announced that the seven addresses will deal, respectively, with: 1—Re-establishment of right human relationship; 2—Spiritual warfare; 3—The unifying power of life; 4—Loneliness and despair; 5—Thirst for cosmic support; 6—When is a life finished? and 7—Trust, and that he will speak for about 14 minutes on each subject.

8 Killed as Train Crashes Auto-Bus

VALENCIA, Spain, April 17.—(AP)—Eight members of a holiday party were killed today and 10 injured in a grade crossing collision between their auto-bus and a freight train near the village of Sagunto, between Sagunto and Valencia.

Four of those injured were in a serious condition. Aid has been rushed from Valencia.

The crossing guard, apparently holding himself responsible for the disaster, committed suicide late in the afternoon.

Witnesses said the driver of the bus apparently did not see the oncoming freight train until it was too late.

51 Persons Indicted For Sale of 'Ginger'

CINCINNATI, April 17.—(AP)—Indictments involving 51 individuals and ten firms were returned today by the federal grand jury which has been investigating the sale of Jamaica ginger, said to be the cause of 300 cases of partial paralysis here. Four men have died in Cincinnati from the malady.

Among those indicted were P. D. Whitehurst, Corinth, Miss., and Sam Wheelock, Johnson City, Tenn.

Special department of justice agents surveyed the Jamaica ginger situation here and in Kentucky and Tennessee, reporting their findings to the grand jury regarding the method of distribution of the product. Wholesale distributors as well as retailers were included in the indictments.

Arkansas University Removes 3 Professors

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 17.—(AP)—The board of trustees on the University of Arkansas today voted unanimously to uphold Dean Frank H. Vinsonhaler, of the University School of Medicine at Little Rock, in his dismissal of three faculty members of the medical school.

Dean Vinsonhaler preferred no charges against the three instructors, but asked for permission to remove them in the interest of efficiency.

Those to be dismissed effective July 1 are Dr. Isaac Jones, professor of bacteriology; Dr. Charles E. Oates, professor of anatomy, and Dr. E. M. Pemberton, professor of physiology, all have been in the medical school for several years.

The three instructors were said to have presented a written statement of their side of the controversy to the trustees, but it was not made public.

The ouster move against the instructors was said to have been prompted by a desire by Dr. Vinsonhaler to consolidate certain teaching duties and bring about greater efficiency in the administration of the school.

ONLY WEIGHED 70 POUNDS; GAINS 16 TAKING SARGON

"I Was Almost Complete Wreck," She Says; Had to Sleep Propped Up on Pillows; Has "Worlds of New Strength."

"I came to Atlanta not only to visit relatives and friends, but because I was too frail to stand the rigors of a Chicago winter. My father, the late T. O. Jones, was instructor in the woodcraft department of Georgia Tech for eighteen years, and I still have a strong affection for Atlanta. My visit this year is a peculiarly happy one. I came here in wretched health, weighing hardly more than seventy pounds, and so discouraged I thought I'd never be well again. But a few weeks ago good friends told me about Sargon, and today I am well and strong again and I've gained sixteen pounds.

"I'd suffered from gastric indigestion ever since I was quite a young woman, and as the years went by my health gradually failed until I was almost a complete wreck. I had to be very careful about my diet, but everything, even water would create a terrible disturbance in my stomach and my entire digestive tract. After going to bed there would be tremendous pressure around my heart—it would beat so hard my whole body would shake and frighten me almost to death. Lots of nights I had such smothering spells I would have to jump from my bed and rush to the window or door gasping for breath. One night I remember I couldn't get the proper amount of air through the window screen, and I just tore holes in it with my bare hands. I'd have to sleep propped up in bed to breathe at all and get a little rest, and perhaps some sleep. My circulation was so poor that I was always chilly, and my hands, arms and legs would cramp so at times I couldn't move. I had bilious, dizzy spells, was badly constipated and sick headaches were a nightmare to me.

"I have taken only four bottles of Sargon and two bottles of Sargon Soft Mass Pills, and I feel like a wholly different woman. I have a good appetite, eat what I want and digest it without a sign of trouble. I'm never nervous, my circulation is normal and energy; my circulation is normal and energy; my liver and bowels have been regulated perfectly and I haven't been bilious or dizzy or had a headache since taking Sargon.

"I will return to my Chicago home, 2045 S. Canal St., in a short time and I shall make it a point to tell everyone I can about Sargon and the wonderful way it relieved me of all my sufferings."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Avis Demiris, who is making her home at 308 Forrest Ave., while in Atlanta.

The Sargon Man is at Jacobs' Main Store, 48 North Broad St., Grant Bldg., where he is meeting the public daily and explaining the merits of this remarkable new medicine. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

President's Sister-in-Law Beaten for D. A. R. Office

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(UN)—Mrs. Theodore Jesse Hoover, 91, Palo Alto, Cal., and sister-in-law of President Hoover, was defeated for the vice president generalship of the Daughters of the American Revolution in their election tonight.

The vice presidents general elected were: Mrs. Ralph E. Bristol, of Ogden, Utah; Mrs. Benjamin Leslie Hart, of Missouri; Mrs. James C. Peabody, Boston; Mrs. Mathew Brewster, New Orleans; Mrs. Frances Wilson, Santa Fe, N. M.; Mrs. David D. Caldwell, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Morton L. Sigman, Arkansas, and Mrs. Charles Herbert Carrol, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Hoover received 1,162 votes, just 37 short of placing her within the first eight out of the 11 candidates for the vice presidency. Mrs. Bristol ranked eighth.

Balloting on the nominations of Mrs. Eliza Leary, of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Charles J. Bryan, of Memphis, Tenn., candidates for the honorary vice president generalship, resulted in a deadlock. Neither had a two-thirds majority as required for this position under the organization's constitution. Another vote will be taken at tomorrow's session.

It was believed Mrs. Hoover was defeated principally because of opposition to California having a representation of more than one national officer. Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey, reporter general, also is from California. Mrs. Hoover's defeat was not regarded as having any connection with the society's previous action in opposing President Hoover's plan for American entrance in the world court.

A resolution reiterating the organization's opposition to "entangling alliances" was formally adopted, and an official stand in favor of an adequate navy was taken.

The World Court and naval reduction, opposed in committee reports approved yesterday, were not specifically mentioned in the official resolutions. The navy statement was in a report which denounced "pacifist propaganda" and advocated "a navy commensurate with America's present and future."

The society's endorsement of the national defense report of Mrs. Walker was so enthusiastic that it was decided to distribute copies of it among members of congress.

Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, spoke tonight, warning of the dangers of entangling alliances and foreign diplomatic involvements.

Wife Shoots Husband As He Lies Ill in Bed

Police said Mrs. Youngman confessed shooting her husband in a rage of jealousy. Youngman's condition is serious.

DR. DAN A. POLLING WILL SPEAK HERE

Lee, B. Y. P. U.; Dr. J. R. McCain, Agnes Scott College; Haslett McCullough, Christian Endeavor; James Morton, committee on church co-operation; James B. Nevin, Atlanta Georgian.

DR. DANIEL A. POLLING.

Miss Clara Nolan, Y. W. C. A.; Fritz Roberts, Young People's Service League; C. A. Sheldon, Jr., city organizer; Dr. C. R. Stauffer, Christian council; Dr. W. A. Sutton, public schools; Miss Margaret Thomas, Camp Fire Girls; M. L. Throver, committee on church co-operation. Many achievements.

Dr. Polling is prominent as a minister of religion, leader in civic movements, counselor or philanthropist, editor, novelist, radio speaker and a friend of youth. He was born in Oregon and is claimed by Ohio, where he first came to national attention. He lives now in New York, summering in New Hampshire. From his youth Dan Polling has been where things are happening or where he would help things to happen. Twenty years ago he was known as a football player, a track man, a boxer and a lumberjack. For a few weeks he worked in a steel mill. Several years later he helped to develop the survey of the steel industry by religious and social leaders that brought about important changes.

Before he reached 30, Dan Polling was prohibition party candidate for governor of Ohio. He was nominated because of his organizing ability, his skill as a speaker, and his zeal for the prohibition cause. In that year the prohibition party won in Ohio increased from 2,000 to 48,000.

Dr. Polling has shown a genius for using time-honored organizations and historic principles in the forming of a message and challenge for the present day. He has worked with the old medium and with the new to promote prohibition and its enforcement, world peace, social and industrial justice, evangelism, medical aid for the poor, and a more courageous Christian church.

Church Activities. His ministry in New York has been through a 300-year-old church, the Mable Collegiate, in Fifth avenue. His leadership of Christian youth around the world has been as president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, a movement 50 years old. He is editor-in-chief of Christian Herald, over a half century old, and here, too, he has retained the principles of the founders, translating these principles into the expressions and objectives of today.

Dr. Polling may become best known to history through his presentation of the Crusade with Christ, a new youth movement with objectives in evangelism, world peace, and Christian citizenship. The Crusade has become the basis of the young people's program in practically every Protestant denomination. No conception of the causes most urgently demanding Christian action has been more appealing to youth and adults.

The radio, through a national hookup, has brought to all America on Sunday afternoons the strong and ringing voice of Daniel A. Polling and his forceful and clear-cut messages. The question-box of this radio speaker and his answers to questions are direct, clear and attractively phrased.

Convincing Writings. Many have met Dan Polling in his books. He has published not only several volumes of powerful sermons, but three novels, "The Furnace" and "The Heretic" are important social documents. "John of Oregon" is a high type of romance. All are convincing and interesting writings.

In the prohibition and law enforcement work, Dr. Polling has been a commander with resourcefulness, courage, and intellectual power. On several occasions the united temperance forces have selected him to represent them in public statements or interviews with public men.

Dr. Polling saw service in the World War. He was severely gassed. He is now a chaplain in the officers' reserve. He is general director of the J. C. Penney Foundation. Dr. Polling has served as president of the Greater New York Federation of Churches and in numerous other religious relationships.

On the platform Dr. Polling is unsurpassed for logical fairness, thorough mastery of his subject, and oratorical skill are his. His personality is magnetic, his message friendly and beautiful. Audiences in every state, in many Canadian cities and overseas have rejoiced in his unforgettable challenge to the best that is in them.

INCOME TAX FIGHT
LOOMS AT SESSION

be distributed as soon as they have been prepared and the collection of the tax immediately instituted.

Expected Revenue. It is estimated that from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 of the income tax is paid due from the last quarter of 1929, during which the tax was effective. Its collection was postponed pending the decision of the courts on the constitutionality of the bill.

The tax is expected to yield from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year. Payment of the tax will be on a basis of one-third the amount of the federal income tax at the time the act was adopted. The cut made by congress several months ago in the federal income tax rate will not affect the amount to be paid by Georgia taxpayers.

Attorneys represented in the litigation decided on Wednesday, have indicated their intention not to prosecute an appeal to the federal supreme court. Federal questions thought to be involved in the case were not emphasized in the trial, reliance being placed on the theory that the income tax law was at variance with the state, and not the federal, constitution.

Albert Mayer, Atlanta attorney, indicated Wednesday night that he had been retained in connection with a proposed new suit which may be brought in federal courts seeking to have the law declared unconstitutional.

CHARTER REVISION SOUGHT IN CALL

A concerted effort to induce Governor Hardman to include revision of the Atlanta charter as a local measure in his call for the general assembly will follow a meeting of leading members of council this afternoon at the city hall, it was announced Thursday by Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward, one of the proponents of a reduction of the present membership.

After the meeting this afternoon steps will be taken to have the governor include consideration of a local bill in his call.

Among those who are expected to attend the session are Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, of the twelfth; Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, of the eleventh; Alderman Alvin Richards, of the thirteenth; Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth, and all who are interested in the proposed changes.

Alderman Gilliam has announced he will offer a paper at the next meeting of council to reduce the membership from its present number of 39 to 18. Under his plan there would be 13 council members, one from each of the wards, and the borough would be divided into quadrants called aldermanic districts, from which one alderman would be named. A fifth alderman would be elected from the borough at large and could come from any section of the borough.

All members of council and the aldermanic board would be nominated and elected, under the Gilliam plan, by a vote of all registered voters of the entire borough.

The Gilliam paper, or some similar reduction, has strong councilmanic support and Mayor L. N. Ragdale likewise is committed to a reduction of council.

Councilman Berman will offer at the next meeting of council a measure designed to place borough primary laws under state control, thus giving stability to the primary system.

Alderman Murphy Thursday declared he favors a change in the present system in order to preserve the present form of government.

"I am one of the supporters of the mayor and council form of government," Alderman Murphy said "but we have gotten away from that. In reality what we have now is a committee form of government. In most matters council as a whole has little or no voice, but the police committee transacts the business of the police department, the park committee manages the parks, and so on through the list of committees."

"In my opinion we should have a smaller council and a better paid council, so that the group itself can transact the city's business. At the present time we pay council members only $50 a month and expect them to devote half of their time to handling city business. To assure proper attention to municipal affairs, we should fix responsibility more definitely, and grant the members a compensation commensurate with the service expected of them."

Percy L. Harden
Takes Own Life

NEW YORK, April 17.—(UN)—Percival L. Harden, one of New York's best known "men about town" and former publisher of a society scandal paper, shot himself through the heart in his hotel room here today.

Harden, former publisher of the "Club Fellow" and the "Washington Mirror," was married three times and has figured in the public eye by virtue of his matrimonial difficulties for 20 years.

He married Maude Sullivan, a cloak model, who divorced him in 1907 and married William T. Hoops, a broker. Harden sued Hoops for alienation of affections and won a $10,000 verdict.

His second wife was Mrs. Doris Mercer, who divorced him in 1918. She subsequently became the wife of Sebastian S. Kresge, five-and-ten-cent store king. Harden's third marital venture was with Mrs. Lyle McVee, who sued him for separation in 1926. Harden's two publications were recently taken over by the New York Tatler. He was 50 years old.

SENATE WILL CALL PARKER TO STAND

Appointee To Supreme Court Will Be Asked To Give Views.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—After a conference of senate republicans today, Senator Watson, of Indiana, the party leader, asked that Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, be called before the senate judiciary committee to answer complaints against his nomination as an associate justice of the supreme court.

Confronted with restlessness in the republican ranks which forebodes serious opposition to the nominee, Senator Watson stated after the party meeting that he would ask that Parker be called.

The protest of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People toward the negroes in a speech attributed to him when he was running for governor in 1920 is the chief concern of the republican regulars.

"I think Judge Parker should come before the judiciary committee," said Senator Watson, "to subject himself to examination."

The American Federation of Labor

is objecting strenuously to a decision by Judge Parker on an injunction against the United Mine Workers but President Hoover through the department of justice has answered that this decision upheld precedents established by the supreme court.

Some of the 18 republican senators who attended the conference today expressed the hope that his nomination would be withdrawn. Senator Watson was importuned to take this message to the president but he told the senators to carry their own burdens to the White House.

The republican leader conferred earlier in the day with Mr. Hoover. It is the opinion of the party leaders that the president is standing by Judge Parker, at least until he has been given an opportunity to answer the speech against which the negro organization complains so severely.

Just Two Days Are Left On Big Extra Credit Offer

Opportunity for Big Bonus in Constitution Campaign Expires Saturday, 9 p. m.

Just two days left for candidates in the Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign to get subscriptions on the 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer and $500 gold special prize offer. The extra offer ends at 9 o'clock Saturday night.

The big extra offer will be close and candidates are urged to work right up to the last minute in obtaining subscriptions. Now is the big time of the campaign for the earning of extra credits. A bonus of 100,000 extra credits will be given for every $30 worth of new prepaid subscriptions turned in and a bonus of 50,000 extra credits will be given for every $30 worth of new contract subscriptions. This is the GREATEST extra credit opportunity of the entire campaign.

$500 In Gold. Seven gold awards, first $200, second $100, third $75, fourth $50, fifth $25, sixth $25 and seventh prize $25, will be given to the seven candidates turning in the highest amounts in new subscription business during the period starting March 26 and ending at 9 p. m. April 18. The gold prizes are in addition to the regular awards to be given at the close of the campaign May 31. A contestant can win one of these and a regular award too.

In the winning of the gold awards you will also be gathering in the extra credits, as both new prepaid and new contract subscriptions count for the special gold awards and these same subscriptions count in the 100,000-50,000 extra credit offer.

So make every hour count during these two days of the extra offer. It is not too late to enter the campaign. The 100,000 and 50,000 extra credit offer for $30 clubs of new subscriptions gives just the chance of getting a big credit total.

Office to Stay Open.

In order to permit candidates to make the most of every minute of this great extra offer the campaign headquarters in The Constitution building will remain open until 9 o'clock Saturday night. All candidates intending to turn in their subscriptions personally are cautioned to be in the campaign office by the closing hour in order to have their subscriptions apply on the extra credit and gold offer.

All contestants residing outside of Atlanta intending to mail their subscriptions and remittances are cautioned to be very careful to post them early enough so that the postmark of not later than 9 p. m. April 18, is obtained. This mailing privilege applies on the extra credit and gold offer.

Included in the four weekly sailings, three of which go through to Boston, is the "Vacation Special," a Sunday sailing from Savannah to New York only. From June 1 to July 15, the City of Birmingham, flagship of the Ocean Steamship fleet, will make this "Vacation Special" trip. The sister ship, City of Chattanooga, will make the trip for the remainder of the season.

Orchestras recruited largely from southern college club groups, including Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia, will be aboard the steamers in June. Summer tourist fare is effective May 15 and will continue until September 30, all fares including meals, stateroom and the usual passenger accommodations.

G. B. Angevine, general passenger agent, with headquarters in New York, said while in Atlanta Thursday that "last year was one of the best years in the history of our company," explaining that he confidently expected 1936 to be better.

Barnett To Address County Officials

Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board, will be one of the principal speakers at the convention of the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia in Valdosta on May 13, 14 and 15. It was announced Thursday following a meeting the executive committee of the association.

In addition to Captain Barnett, the speakers will include Charles M. Strahan, of the University of Georgia, and Ham McWhorter, a member of the legislature. One of the chief matters to be considered at the convention will be an effort to secure pavement of the highways between every county seat in the state, as well as between all principal communities within the state.

Captain W. H. Wright, of the Chatham county commission, is president of the association. Walter B. Stewart, of the Fulton county commission, is first vice president. Fred Houser, of the Atlanta tourist and convention bureau, is secretary.

Client Held Bound As Counsel Agree

Reversing the Fulton county court in the case of Mrs. Corine Smith vs. The Stone Mountain Memorial Association, the state supreme court Thursday held that a verbal agreement between counsel relative to dismissal of a case under certain conditions was binding, even if the client had not been informed of the agreement.

Last year Mrs. Smith filed in Fulton county a suit against the memorial association, similar to one filed in DeKalb county by S. H. Bellamy, owner of Stone Mountain. Attorneys in both cases later agreed that the venerable suit might be brought to a conclusion more quickly if the Fulton county suit did not exist. After the suit had been settled out of court in DeKalb county, Mrs. Smith attempted to reopen her case in Fulton county with a new group of attorneys, seeking an injunction and other relief.

In the supreme court opinion Justice Beck held that when a verbal agreement to dismiss a case is made by attorneys, the client is "as fully and completely bound by such agreement as if the client had been asked to join in the consent and agreement."

Odd Fellows Hold Meeting Tonight

The monthly meeting of the past grand association of the sixteenth division of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held with Dixie lodge, No. 104, at their hall, 978 1-2 Marietta street, S. W., at 8 o'clock tonight, according to an announcement made by George L. Swates, secretary of the association.

D. L. Nichols, president, will preside and after the disposal of routine business the meeting will be devoted to a ceremonial when the second degree of the order will be conferred in full dramatic form by the degree team of the past grand association, under direction of Thomas W. Brown.

Long Terms Given Admitted Burglars

Pleas of guilty to charges of burglary Thursday brought Clifford Blackman a sentence of from four to twenty years and Avery Carroll a term of from two to ten years.

The defendants pleaded guilty before Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court to indictments charging burglary of stores of the National Shirt Shop, H. S. Wommer, H. S. Store and Ivan-Allen Marshall Company. The latter plea was entered twice.

Boris Denson, convicted of burglarizing Stoddard's, Inc., was given two to three years by Judge Humphries.

Murder Accessory Gets Life Sentence

A life sentence was imposed on James Harvey, negro, by Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, Thursday, when a jury convicted Harvey of complicity in the murder of Sam Nison, groceryman, and recommended mercy for the defendant.

O. C. Hendrix, negro, who is said to have fired the fatal shot during an attempted hold-up of Nison's store recently was convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair on May 9. Will Watkins, negro, third defendant in the case, will be placed on trial later.

Barbers Lose Fight Imposed by Solons

The state supreme court Thursday upheld the tax on barbers imposed at the last session of the state legislature. The decision was in the case of C. B. Lane, of Macon, who appealed from a decision of the Macon city court in a misdemeanor case involving the tax.

The tax is a levy of $5 a chair in cities of more than 5,000 population, and $2.50 per chair in smaller cities. It was contended that the tax was discriminatory.

Fine of 25 Cents Imposed in Dry Case

Bill Marlon, youthful negro, drew a fine of 25 cents in federal court Thursday.

Brought before Judge Alexander Ackerman on a charge of possessing liquor, it was explained that he had spent three months in jail awaiting trial.

"Can you pay a fine of $500?" the judge asked him.

"No, sir," the negro said. "All right then, I will let you pay one of 25 cents."

JURY MAY SCRUTINIZE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Irregularities Rumored in Primary To Select County Commission Candidates.

An inquiry by the Fulton county grand jury into the recent democratic primary for county commission posts loomed Thursday when a committee of the grand jury asked J. Walton Simmons, clerk of superior court, for the ballot boxes used in the primary.

The grand jury has also obtained a list of the registered voters from the board of registrars. Incumbent candidates in the primary, Dr. W. L. Gilbert, Paul S. Etheridge and Walter C. Hendrix, were nominated for reelection, defeating Councilman Nelson T. Spratt, Dr. Dan H. Griffith and Alex Whitley.

Numerous complaints regarding alleged irregularities in the primary have been made to Mr. Spratt, he said Thursday. Mr. Spratt said that he has taken no action on the complaints himself, but has referred all of the citizens to the grand jury. "I do not wish to be placed in the attitude of being a poor loser, and therefore have not had anything to do with the complaints," Mr. Spratt said.

Mr. Spratt said that approximately 5 persons have called him on the telephone with reference to alleged irregularities, and that numbers of other people have stopped him on the street to talk to him about the matter. He has, however, told all of them that it is any citizen's privilege to complain to the grand jury about such matters and has taken no action himself.

A committee from the grand jury Thursday inspected the city police station. The grand jurors were conducted through the building by O. H. Pendley, secretary to Police Chief James L. Beavers. Findings of the committee will probably be incorporated in presentations of the grand jury. Other committees from the grand jury have been inspecting various public institutions, such as the county schools, etc., preparatory to the return of the semi-annual reports of the grand jury on the condition of the institutions.

SALVATION ARMY GETS MUCH OLD MATERIAL

More than 50 tons of old newspapers, books and magazines and more than two tons of old clothing and rags had been collected by the Salvation Army up to Thursday night in the city-wide clean-up campaign, it was announced by Ensign Hugo Bloomberg, officer in charge of the social service center.

The Salvation Army began its clean-up collection of rummage discarded in spring cleaning last week, before the opening of the official "week" under sponsorship of the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce. Trucks are being sent to homes throughout the city to gather up the material on telephone call to Jackson 2224.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Dow, Jones & Company states that there have been some informal discussions between certain interests in Montgomery, Ward & Company and Sears, Roebuck & Company as to the possibility of a merger, but that the matter has not been taken up officially by management or directors of either company. A merger of Montgomery, Ward and J. C. Penney Company was considered a few weeks ago and abandoned as uneconomical.

Wet Advocate Enters North Carolina Race

RALEIGH, N. C., April 17.—(UN)—North Carolina anti-prohibitionists gained a candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator today when Dr. Thomas Letcher Estep, avowed wet of Stratford, N. C., completed formal filing of his candidacy.

Estep is the first wet candidate to enter the race. He must oppose Fumford M. Simmons, running for re-election, and Josiah W. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, both drys.

HER WINTER COUGH AND COLD HUNG ON NEARLY TWO YEARS

Worried and Exhausted by It Ever Since Attack of Flu, She Says

A SINGLE BOTTLE OF LIN-O-NINE STOPPED IT

"I had a terrible cough and winter cold for almost two years after my attack of the flu, and it finally wore me down until I was exhausted and very weak. Just a short walk would give me pains in the chest and start up a fit of coughing that would almost make me fall to the street. Then I learned about Lin-O-Nine, and strange as it may seem it took less than one bottle to completely rid me of my trouble. It seemed to ease me right away and I haven't had a coughing spell since, no matter how far or fast I walk," writes Mary Sanderson, West Warwick, R. I.

Lots of doctors always recommend Lin-O-Nine for watery coughs and colds. It isn't expensive and works so surely and quick. Nothing could be nicer to take and it eases the cold right away. Lin-O-Nine is a snow white creamy emulsion of Eucalyptus, Betula, Cassia, Irish Moss and Glycerine as per formula printed on each bottle. For the more serious and dangerous forms of winter coughs and colds one should by all means use this more powerful and certain remedy. If your druggist hasn't it, he will obtain it for you. For you or send 50c or $1 for large or small size bottle to Kerr Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md. Note: The forty-year-old Kerr Chemical Co. guarantees Lin-O-Nine to do the work or money gladly refunded.—(adv.)

DR. CURTIS IS GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Pharmacist Is Ordered To Give Up Right to Prescribe Narcotics.

Dr. Alfred Lee Curtis, prominent Atlanta physician and owner of a chain of drug stores, Thursday pleaded guilty in federal court to charges of violating the Harrison narcotic act and received a five-year suspended sentence from Judge Alexander Akerman.

Dr. Curtis also sacrificed his license to prescribe and sell narcotics.

Dr. Virgil Lee Darby, of Buckhead, also pleaded guilty to charges of violating the federal narcotic act and received a two-year suspended sentence.

Dr. Curtis was indicted in 72 counts after an investigation by federal agents lasting over the period between June, 1927, and March, 1930. He was found to be selling large quantities of morphine, it was reported, prescribing it and filling prescriptions.

He is charged with filling prescriptions of several other Atlanta physicians in his drug stores. Among them was Dr. James F. Webb, who pleaded guilty Tuesday. Trials are still pending against Dr. John G. Wilkins, Herman Benjamin, Robert C. Williams and Albert Wessell, of the Benjamin Drug Company, who were also indicted.

Before the federal commissioner Thursday J. F. Walker, 22, of 596 West Peachtree street, was bound over to the federal grand jury under a $5,000 bond on a charge of selling morphine.

Jack Parker, 24, and Will Cooper, 24, 568 Pryor street, arrested Wednesday night on charges of possessing narcotics, were bound over under bonds of $500 each.

Decatur Red Cross Roll Opens Sunday

Representatives of all Decatur organizations will open a drive to enroll members in the American Red Cross in DeKalb county at 3 p. m. Sunday at a called meeting in the Presbyterian church in Decatur.

DeKalb county's Red Cross chapter has a deficit of approximately $1,500, it was said Saturday, due to failure of the Atlanta Community Chest to furnish sufficient funds for the chapter to carry on its 1930 program.

Leon O'Neil, executive chairman of the chapter, is calling the meeting while the campaign will be under the auspices of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce.

SPANISH DECORATION IS AWARDED BORI

Metropolitan Soprano Gets Royal Order of Isabel in Honor of Voice.

Lucresia Bori, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who will open the Atlanta season on May 1 in "Louise," has been decorated with the Royal Order of Isabel by the Spanish government. It is announced in New York dispatches. Miss Bori was visited in her dressing room at the Metropolitan opera house by the Spanish ambassador at Washington, Senor Don Alejandro Padilla y Bell, and formally presented with the jewel of the order in recognition of her services to art.

Miss Bori, though Spanish born, is a descendant of the famous Italian family of Borgia, one of her ancestors being the noted personage who was said to be careless in leaving fatal beverages where unpopular guests might get hold of them. Her family has resided in Spain for several generations, however.

Miss Bori, besides presenting the title role in "Louise," will also sing her famous role of Mimi in "La Boheme" at the Saturday matinee of the Atlanta season.

Tickets for separate operas will go on sale next Monday at the Cable Piano Company, the sale to continue through the season, May 1 to 3. Best prices range from $2 to $7 for each performance.

The program is: May 1, "Louise," with Bori, Trantoul and Rothler; May 2, "Trovatore," with Rosa Ponselle, Martinelli, Clausen and Danise; May 3, matinee, "La Boheme," with Bori, Gigh, De Luca and others; May 3, night, double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana," with Leonora Corona and Tokatyan, followed by "Pagliacci," with Lawrence Tibbett, Martinelli and Queena Mario.

Baseball Postpones Work at City Hall

Work at the Atlanta city hall was postponed Thursday afternoon while bosses and hired help enjoyed the first game of the Southern league at Spiller field.

Several committee meetings, which usually are held on Thursday afternoons, were deferred until today, as everybody from Mayor L. N. Ragsdale down to the office boys, stenographers and others sallied out to the game.

Baseball and spring fever combined and took the municipal government by storm and every employee seemed infected with the virus.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED ON GOOD-HEALTH WEEK

Intensive Drive for Improvement in Community Health Fully Arranged.

Completion of plans for participation of the boroughs of Greater Atlanta and Fulton county in the state-wide observance of Georgia Health Week, commencing May 6, was announced at a meeting of all committee chairmen held at the Academy of Medicine Thursday afternoon.

Dr. C. W. Roberts, general chairman of the committee from the Fulton County Medical Society having the affair in charge, stated that every sign pointed to a great success. It was disclosed that a special moving picture film has been created under the supervision of a committee headed by Dr. L. G. Baggett, of Atlanta, which will be displayed in the leading city and suburban theaters.

The annual physical examination of public school children will occur the same week and a series of radio addresses will be delivered by leading physicians and dentists. Special sermons will be delivered in local churches on the first Sunday in May on the "Gospel of Good Health."

The meeting Thursday was attended by prominent physicians and dentists and by heads of the parent-teacher and public nursing organizations. Addresses were made by Dr. James N. Brawner, president of the local medical society, and Dr. T. C. Davison, president-elect.

A feature was a report rendered by Dr. C. W. Roberts telling the plans among the colored people for co-operating in observance of health week.

On behalf of the committee in charge of the Georgia movement for observing health week, Dr. Charles E. Waites reported that interest throughout the state is alive to the benefits of this campaign.

Plans for the local work of the committee contemplate a public meeting on the night of May 9, at which the chief speaker will be Dr. W. S. Hanks, head of the Duke Foundation medical staff, who has been invited to come here from Charlotte, N. C.

MRS. OTTLEY BACKS 'CLEAN-UP' CAMPAIGN

Hearty indorsement of the clean-up and paint-up campaign sponsored by the woman's division of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce was given Thursday by Mrs. John K. Ottley, prominent society and clubwoman and member of the woman's division.

Mrs. Ottley says the Atlanta Federation of Clubs many years ago started a movement to beautify Atlanta by cleaning and painting and she is gratified that Mrs. Regina Corrigan, president of the woman's division, and Mrs. Virginia Gouedy, chairman of the campaign, have carried forward such a tremendous city-wide program for betterment.

It is the suggestion of Mrs. Ottley to that office.

that there be a permanent committee to organize clubs in different sections of the city so that when the annual clean-up, paint-up, plant-up campaign is on there will be a unified and efficient group of workers to assist the woman's division, making it easier to accomplish bigger things. Mrs. Ottley also believes the message that 60,000 public school children are taking into the homes is a great idea, for beginning with the child, the importance of beautifying will develop until it becomes second nature and in a few years Atlanta will be a city of beauty conscious citizens.

Hensley Pays Fee In Secretary's Race

A. H. Hensley, of Barnesville, candidate for secretary of state in the September democratic primary, Thursday paid his entry fee of $150 at the state capitol.

25,003
People
Passed in Front of Our Store
Last Saturday

We stationed eagle-eyed statisticians, with mechanical counters, on the sidewalk, and they counted all who passed on our busy side of Peachtree Street, from 9 o'clock in the morning to 5:30 in the afternoon (our store hours).

During every hour of this time, Davison's made 1,296 individual sales—which proves that by no means all who came our way were "just looking."

What a whale of a difference just a few years make in growing Atlanta. We have been in our new store three years and one month. Atlantans can remember how Peachtree, between Ellis and Cain Streets, looked before our walls went soaring skyward. Before that the old Capital City Club, the Governor's Mansion, the old Richards home; and, across the street, the First Baptist Church in a huddle of low buildings, looked out serenely into a quiet, shady street.

We attribute our fast-growing business to these facts---

Our store is a joy to shop in—

Our administration is ever progressive—

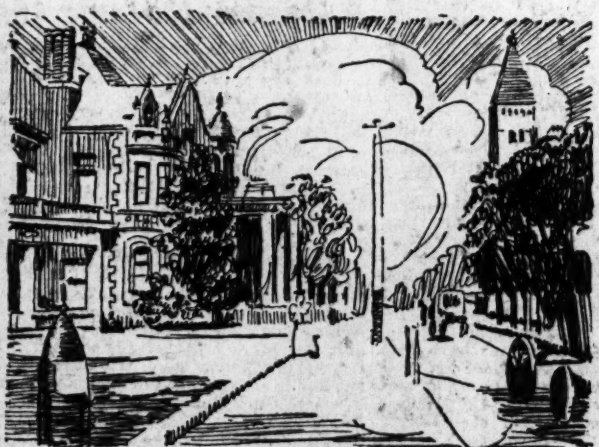

Our merchandise is top-notch—

—And Because

we do our buying through Macy's (the world's largest department store purchasing power), our prices are always so low that—

Apple Blossom Celebration Gala Event in Habersham

CORNELIA, Ga., April 17.—(AP)—In the shadow of Cornelia's giant cement arch a throng of Georgians from all parts of the state paid tribute Thursday to Habersham county's leading product in the 1936 apple blossom festival.

Opening with a series of addresses by apple growers and prominent business men of the state, the ceremonies moved swiftly toward the feature event of the day, the coronation of Miss Katherine Neel, of Cornelia, as queen of the festival.

To the strains of music by bands of the Georgia Power Company and Riverside Military Academy, of Gainesville, Miss Neel took her place on the throne built beside the huge apple replica, and waved her scepter to open the festival pageant. Staged in elaborate Colonial costume with a cast of 100 people, the pageant symbolized the king's palace in the heart of apple blossom land. J. A. Bont-right, Jr., of Cornelia, escort for the queen, acted as king of the festival. The grand parade of floats which formed the crowning event of the day's program followed immediately after the conclusion of the pageant.

Through eight miles of apple orchards which spread at the foot of humped Mount Yonah, a gigantic carpet of throbbing color, the parade made its way over the paved highway to Clarksville. Approximately 50 floats, lavishly decorated to picture every conceivable phase of the apple-growing industry, took part, representing civic bodies, business establishments, educational institutions and other organizations of the region.

L. Y. Irvin welcomed the throng of visitors to the festivities in behalf of the city of Cornelia. Verner Brown represented the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the festival.

Among the principal speakers at the morning ceremonies were Preston Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company; J. Frank Beck, Atlanta; Dr. J. H. Dover, Clayton, and Colonel Ben Gilliland, of Gainesville.

The festival closed tonight with the annual queen's ball.

Prizes in the float contest were awarded as follows: Most beautiful, Gainesville Chamber of Commerce; most original, Habersham Chapter, U. D. C.; most representative, Third Consolidated Apple Growers Exchange. The judges were Mrs. J. J. Green, of Fort Valley; J. A. Dunwoody, of Atlanta; and Frank T. Reynolds, of Atlanta.

Governor Favors Luxury Tax To Help Schools in State

Extra Session Seen as Only Means To Rectify Over-Appropriations in Macon Address.

MACON, Ga., April 17.—(AP)—Governor L. G. Hardman, outlining a proposal to wipe out the state deficit and provide 100 per cent operation of state institutions for the next two years, advocated in an address here today a special session of the general assembly as the only means to rectify permanently the over-appropriations of 1928 and 1929.

In answer to the question, "What's the matter with Georgia?" the governor told the convention of school children he favored the extraordinary session only upon the urgent necessity of increasing the state's income in the face of growing deficit, incurred by "operating on appropriations rather than income."

The governor, speaking of increased revenue needed, said he was in favor of the luxury tax as applied to everything except candy. He said further that unless this extra session does produce a revenue, it would be necessary to curtail the activities of several state institutions, among them the state sanitarium for the insane at Milledgeville, and to make the world more fit to live in. We kept the faith.

"Before the smoke of the last gun in France cleared away Judge Gary held a meeting and advocated the right of corporations to operate and to pay a profit to stockholders as a moral and legal right and that neither the United States government nor the American Federation of Labor has a right to interfere."

Hughes and Parker Criticized.

"These leaders decided the first need was to train the mind of the American people to this doctrine. To this end they wanted control of the government. The appointment of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice and the appointment of John J. Parker as associate justice of this court evidence this desire. Isn't this convincing that the American people are not Jeffersonian, but Hamiltonian?"

"We face the question of property rights against human rights. Hughes was appointed because he was a supporter of the United States. Hughes believed in property rights over and above human rights. The president then appointed the speaker, who affirmed the doctrine that if you or I address a meeting and ask coal miners to join the United Mine Workers we violate an injunction. Mr. Parker said the decision that we could not go into West Virginia or into the jurisdiction of the lower court and ask a miner who had signed an appeal to join the United Mine Workers to join the United Mine Workers without violating the injunction."

"Labor Must Realize Responsibility."

"I am glad to see much of the United States as any man in it. It is the best country on the face of the earth. But it is time that the men who are in charge of the government realize that it is a responsibility on their shoulders."

"The American Federation of Labor was requested by southern organizations to come into the south and to organize the state of Georgia. The federation answered that call unflinchingly. We answered the call not as agitators but as crusaders. We have the right to expect the co-operation of the state of Georgia. If you want the south organized, we can organize it. The state of Georgia is a part of the United States. Have we a right to expect the Georgia labor movement your hearty co-operation? We work in a great cause with a firm and solid determination. We are working not only for the textile workers but for every man and woman of labor in Georgia."

Acting on the report of the committee on resolutions, the convention favored a national system of old age pensions; recommended that the Georgia State supreme court shall not declare an act of congress in violation of the constitution and invalid except by a unanimous decision of said court; and recommended that a committee on education; favored an effective tariff on jute, long staple cotton, vegetable oils, including those of the Philippine, and other products.

DEATH OF MAN IS SEEN AS JULIAN CRASH 'ECHO'

Drugs Found in Slain Agent's Room Lead to Inquiry.

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(AP)—Miamas of death, bribery, forgery and embezzlement arose today from the welter of crimes which have festered here for three years as a sequel to the collapse of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and the disclosure of a $100,000,000 stock swindle. Indications of violence followed a report Thursday that R. J. Abernathy, a "knockout drops" man, had played a part in the strange death Tuesday of Robert Bursian, under-cover agent for the district attorney's office, whose body was found under his wrecked automobile. He had been assigned a "very dangerous mission" on the Julian case. An autopsy showed that death resulted from a basal skull fracture. The physicians said the drug was in liquor which Bursian had imbibed. There will be an inquest tomorrow. Another phase of the tangled case brought Jacob Friedlander, former state corporation commissioner in California, and Charles Crawford, local political figure and real estate broker, into superior court for arraignment on a bribery indictment. They were ordered to plead next Thursday with S. C. Lewis, former Julian president and four others. They are alleged to have received money and paid it to obtain issuance of stock selling permits under which spurious Julian securities were marketed. J. H. Roth, a broker, testified before the grand jury that he paid $50,000 for such permits. Lewis is in the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island serving a seven-year sentence for using the mails to defraud.

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration? How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind? Get on the scales to-day and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoonful every morning in a glass of hot water—just what you actually require—get a little rest, exercise—and when you have finished the first bottle weigh yourself again. Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly—have presented you with glorious health. After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money." Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(AP).

Citizens' Board Urged to Enforce Traffic Rules

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Thursday prepared to transmit to council a petition of the Atlanta safety council urging establishment of a permanent citizens' traffic commission to act in an advisory capacity.

Calling attention to the fact that few recommendations of the mayor's traffic commission named several months ago to make a minute and scientific survey of conditions in Atlanta have been put into effect or even considered, the petition from the commission asked immediate appointment of the commission.

Mr. Ragsdale stated he would submit the petition to council for a recommendation. If council sanctions appointment of such a commission, he will name it at once, he said.

"We wish to call your attention to the report of the mayor's traffic commission with its many recommendations, few of which have been either remotely considered or put into effect," the petition points out. "One of the major recommendations made is the appointment of a permanent traffic commission; this commission to be composed of citizens not connected with the city government and to serve without pay. The duties of this commission, at least for the present, are to be purely advisory."

Immigration Bill Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—The Harris bill to apply the immigration quota laws to Central and South American countries continued in status quo before the senate today as amendments broadening its features—some calling for upsetting the whole American restriction policy—continued to be offered on the floor.

After another day of debate without action on any of the half dozen amendments proposed, Senator McNary, of Oregon, the assistant republican leader, endeavored to obtain an agreement to limit debate and vote on the bill not later than 4 p. m. Monday. Senators Jones, republican, and Dill, democrat, of Washington, objected.

One amendment considered would shut off all immigration for five years beginning next January 1. It was offered by Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, who asserted the people of the United States were opposed to any further immigration so long as there is unemployment.

"The American people are willing to work anywhere if you pay them a decent wage," Black said in criticizing those who contend Mexican labor is needed in the sugar beet fields of the west.

Atlanta Woman Named Presbyterian Officer

BARTOW, Fla., April 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Ansel Putnam, Greenville, S. C., was elected president of the second presbytery of the Associated Reformed Presbyterian church, composed of the states of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina, at the closing session of the annual convention here today.

The place for holding the next convention was not decided. Other officers named were Mrs. C. B. Williams, Atlanta, Ga., vice president; Mrs. L. E. Harris, Spartanburg, S. C., treasurer; Mrs. W. F. Patrick, Greenville, S. C., corresponding secretary, and Mrs. C. A. Boswell, Bartow, intermediate and junior leader.

Benefit Is Planned For Reunion Funds

Although Tag Day sales for the United Confederate Veterans turned out to be very satisfactory, the goal of $1,000 was not reached, Mrs. A. O. Woodward, chairman of the finance committee for Atlanta Camp, No. 120, announced Thursday, and another benefit will be arranged soon in order to raise the amount needed for the veterans.

Rockefeller Departs For Northern Home

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., April 17. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller today left for his summer home at Lakewood, N. J., after spending more than four months at his Ormond winter residence.

He was accompanied by a cousin, Mrs. Fannie A. Evans; his secretary, N. W. Davis, and 10 other members of his household. In addition to baggage, a caged canary and a dog owned by the Rockefeller valet were shipped north.

Still wearing a light topcoat, thrown back to reveal a bright buttonhole, Rockefeller remained seated in his automobile until a minute or two before the arrival of his train, but still had time to say goodbye to 25 or 30 visitors gathered for his departure.

The Rockefeller party remained in Ormond at his winter home, the Casements, much later than usual this year, Davis said, although once the departure was not until April 27.

DEATH OF TWO NEGROES ADMITTED REWARD PLOT

Texas Barber Says Killing of Pair in Robbery Was Frame-Up.

FT. WORTH, Texas, April 17.—(AP)—The district attorney's office today announced that A. P. Boyd, a barber, had confessed that the slaying of two negroes who attempted to rob the First State Bank of Polite, a suburb, last Thursday, was framed by four white men in a plot to collect a reward.

The plan was to have the negroes hold up the bank and slay them on the scene for a reward of $5,000 offered by the Texas Bankers' Association for each slain bank robber. The association, however, announced it would not pay the amount for the slayings here as the Polite bank did not contribute to the reward fund.

Boyd made his confession after charges of murder were filed against him and John Alsop, former policeman. The negroes, Will Tate and George Terrell, were slain by Alsop, who told officers he had an advance tip on the robbery. The assistant cashier of the bank was wounded seriously in the exchange of shots as the robbers fled.

Boyd told county authorities he met the "ring leader" about three weeks before the shootings and discussed the plans. He said that he and a companion intended to withdraw but the "ring leader" called them "a couple of kill-joys."

On the day of the attempted robbery, Boyd said he took the negroes picked out for the job in his automobile to the vicinity of the bank and let them out. He said they had been drinking and only one of them was armed.

Besides Alsop and Boyd, two other men were questioned in connection with the slayings. A negro also was arrested after Boyd made his statement.

Since the bankers' association announced its "dead robber" reward five men have been killed. Two men were arrested and charged with framing the slaying of two men at Rankin. Their cases are now pending.

Anne Will Aid Lindy in Flight Across Nation

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's high-altitude experimental flight, which will start from here in a few days, will be the first in which he has carried an aviation sextant, he said today, and the first trip for Mrs. Lindbergh, the former Anne Morrow, as an aerial navigator.

The aviator, who, alone and flying blind, successfully hopped the Atlantic to Paris, disclosed that while he does not use a sextant on the flight, he is carrying one on the transcontinental trip to insure the possibility of continuing by celestial navigation if storm conditions force him above the clouds.

"Mrs. Lindbergh has used an aviation sextant before," Colonel Lindbergh said. "But on only trial flights. She has been studying aerial navigation since we came to California last January. Her studies have included both the technical and practical ends, including the 'shooting' of the moon and stars."

"Celestial navigation while flying is easily accomplished. Only a few moments are required to take bearings with the sextant. Altogether it requires only three and a half to four minutes to make the observations and work out the location and direction; this, of course, is with the use of tables."

Colonel Lindbergh, who is making the high altitude flight at great speed and other possibilities for transport planes in the currents above 10,000 feet, pointed out that conclusive facts could not be gathered in one transcontinental flight. He indicated that probably would be other high altitude flights to follow.

First American Nurse Dies at Age of 89

BOSTON, April 17.—(AP)—Miss Linda A. J. Richards, the first trained nurse in America and a friend of Florence Nightingale, died here today at the age of 89.

Born in Potsdam, N. Y., July 27, 1841, she was the first applicant and first graduate of the first school of nursing in the country, established by the New England Hospital for Women and Children in September, 1873.

After work in the Bellevue Hospital Training school in New York, she visited European hospitals for study, and in 1895 went to Japan, to organize a nurses' school. Later she returned to this country and directed schools in various American cities, including Kalamazoo, Mich.

For the past four years she had been confined to the Northboro nursing school, where she died.

Amos 'n' Andy Talk Softens Judge's Heart

NEW YORK, April 17.—(UN)—Judge Mulqueen, of general sessions court, listened to Amos 'n' Andy on the radio last night and decided that the business of running a taxi cab company incorporated in Harlem is a pretty tough job.

This morning Charles A. Davis, a Harlem taxi driver, was brought up before Judge Mulqueen, charged with mistreating a young lady of his acquaintance.

"You're probably guilty," the judge said, "but I think I'll let you go this time. I listened to Amos 'n' Andy last night and I think they are philosophers. I've been convinced through them that the taxi business in Harlem is no snap. Now behave yourself."

War department action was taken at the request of President Hoover and the state department, who requested that all due courtesies be extended to Dr. Olaya.

New Engine To Haul First Train to New Depot

Big passenger trains will steam into this new Union depot early this morning as it is thrown open to the traffic of the N., C. and St. L., the L. and N. and the Georgia railroads, while the picture of the huge locomotive is the newest N., C. and St. L. equipment which will bring in that road's first passenger train this morning from Nashville, making a special run to inaugurate the new terminal here. The big engine cost $100,000 and will be on display all day today on the tracks. The Union depot was designed by the Atlanta firm of McDonald and Company, designing architects and supervising engineers.

NEW UNION DEPOT WILL OPEN TODAY

resents the last word in depot design and construction. It was completed at a cost, for the building alone, of $250,000, and with the entire plant represents an investment of some $600,000.

Besides commodious waiting rooms it contains a luncheonette, barber shop, telegraph and telephone connections, and other facilities for the convenience of the public.

Beautiful Structure. McDonald & Co., of Atlanta, the designing architects and supervising engineers, point with pride to the structure. Though exceeded in size and splendor, the station is equal to any in its equipment design and convenience. Incidentally, it is among the finest in the south.

The new locomotive to be used for the first time this morning is one of a group of five, known as the "Dixie" or "4-8-1" type, and bearing the numbers 565 to 569 inclusive. All will be placed into freight and passenger service.

The locomotives, which weigh 564,000 pounds, were designed to develop the highest sustained power at speeds to attain these results as to fuel performance. It carries 10,000 gallons of water and 16 tons of coal in its tender.

The old station will be turned over to wrecking crews this morning, who will dismantle the building in order that the property may be turned over to the United States Warehouse Company for immediate erection of the $3,000,000 Dixie Terminal building.

Using "Air Rights." Both the new Union depot and the projected Dixie Terminal building represent an innovation in the development of Atlanta. They are the first efforts to take advantage of the "air rights" above the state-owned railroad tracks running through the heart of Atlanta's business section. The potential value of these "air rights" is placed at millions of dollars.

Although no public celebration of the opening of the new station will be held, the day will not be without its private affairs.

T. K. Glenn, chairman of the board of directors of the First National bank, and a member of the board of the N., C. & St. L., will entertain President Hill, directors of the railroad and other guests at a dinner at the Atlanta Athletic Club tonight.

The list of invitees includes Governor L. G. Hardman, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, James A. Perry and other members of the Georgia public service commission, and the heads of other railroads running into Atlanta. Altogether about 50 will be present.

Mr. Glenn and others will also take breakfast with the directors of the road this morning at 8:30 o'clock in their private car at the new station.

FOLKS WITH PILES QUICKLY RELIEVED BY A NEW METHOD

Lasting Complete Relief From All Pain, the Users
Declare

FAR AHEAD OF THE
OLD-TIME REMEDIES

Only people actually suffering with piles can realize how delighted several thousand others were recently when completely relieved of all suffering in a few days' time, thanks to a famous chemist who declared people were tired of horrid operations and messy salves which seldom brought them permanent relief anyhow.

"We can put a coating on a pill that won't dissolve until it reaches the bowels when it then turns into a healing, soothing liquid to stop the pain and helps nature banish piles for good. Let's find people suffering real bad and prove it," he urged, and it was done. Read what one person said:

WORKED LIKE MAGIC.
"Nobody knows how I suffered with piles—it was agony and finally the bleeding and pain was so bad I stayed in bed dreading an operation. Several friends knew my trouble and one I will always thank brought a couple bottles of those marvelous Colace Pile Pills the drug stores are just beginning to recommend so highly. I swallowed a couple each meal in a forlorn hope for the next few days and can you imagine my surprise when the bleeding and pain stopped and I was able to hop out of bed and get back to work. Just picture me in agony that way and then able to sit, walk and work comfortably without a pain. It sure was great to sleep sound and comfortable and I'm a different man," declares a happy user who claims he hasn't had a sign of piles since. (Name withheld on request.)

Doctors endorse this new, harmless, effective way to internally treat the sort of piles and hemorrhoids thousands suffer with nowadays. Certainly with a simple treatment available now no one should suffer another day. Druggists sell Colace Pile Pills. If yours hasn't a supply send 75c in stamps to Colace Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md., for full size bottle in plain wrapper, postage paid, full directions. Note: This nationally known Chemical Co. backs up Colace Pile Pills with its famous name and guarantees money back from druggists if not delighted.—(adv.)

UNION STATION

Of the many notable features of the new Union Station, the Plaza and Viaduct connecting the entrance with Forsyth Street are perhaps the most interesting to the general public. Since this part of the work is of such extreme importance it was a pleasure for us to receive the contract, because we knew we had the men and the facilities for the proper construction... and in record time.

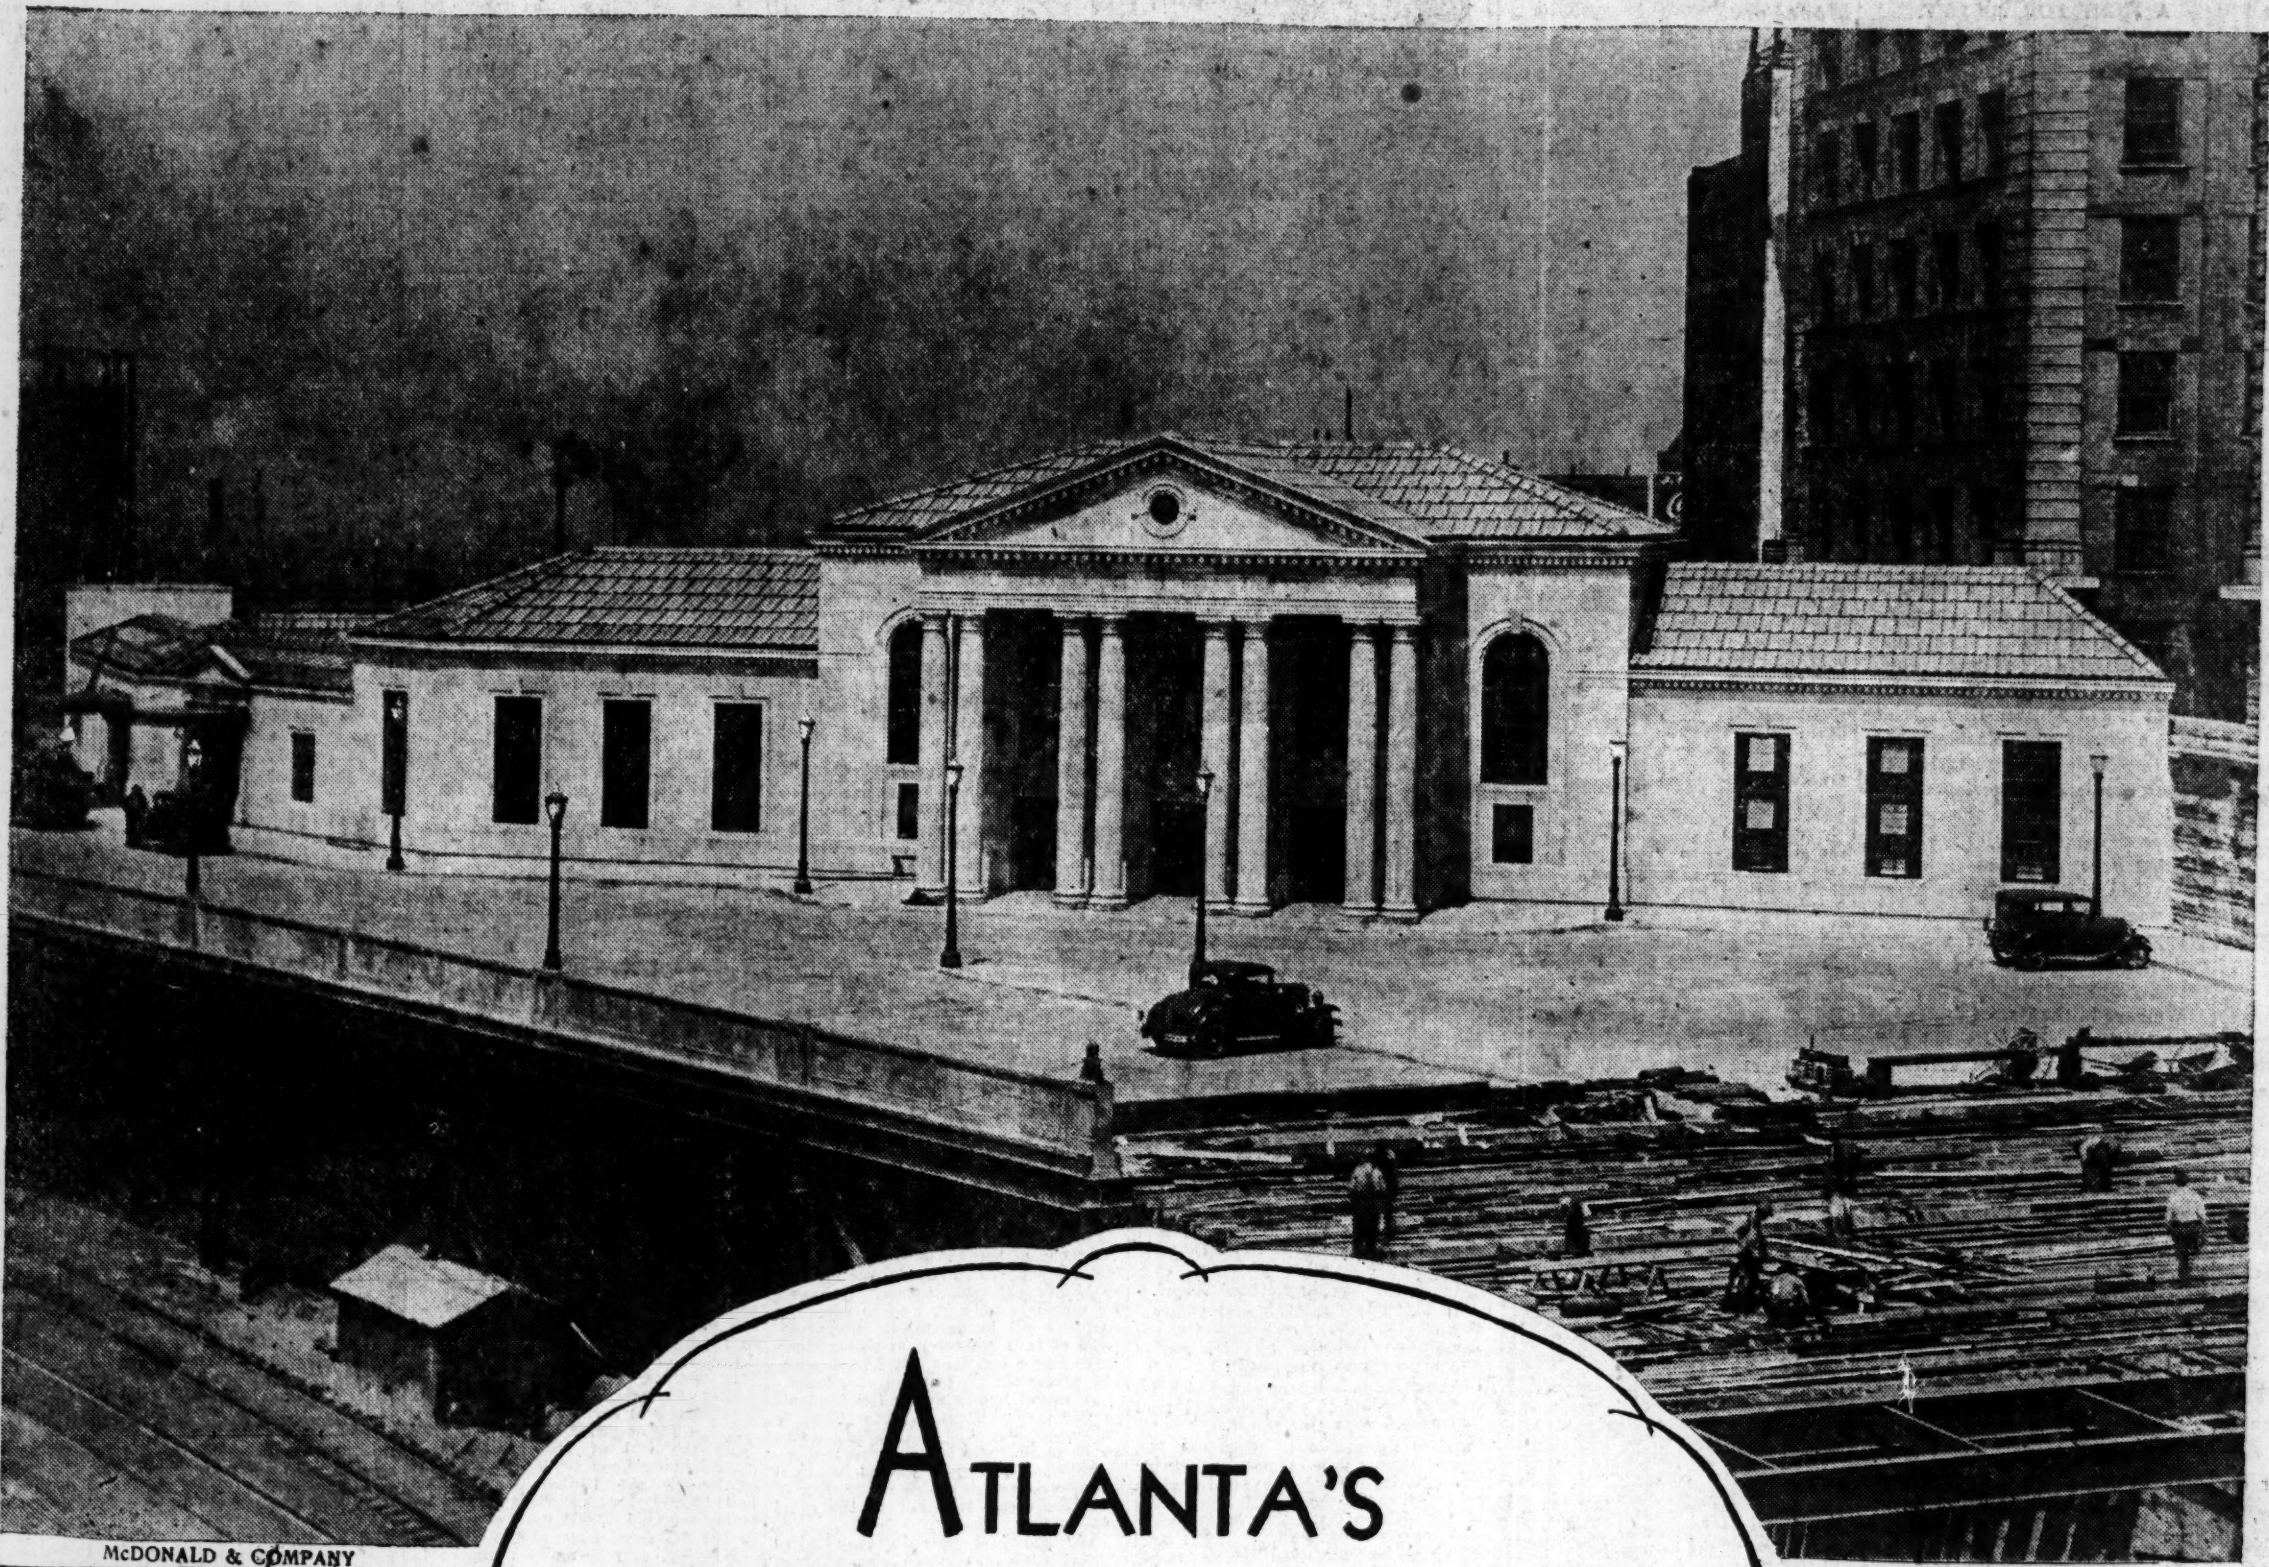

The new Union Station is just another step in Atlanta's constant march forward. The railroads using it will become more popular than ever with the traveling public because they have provided here a station that is modern in every detail, perfectly planned and remarkably convenient to the downtown business section of the city. We join with the general contractors, the architects, the railroads and the officials in welcoming the first passengers to the new station.

Income Tax Could Wipe Out State Deficit in 30 Months

Book Balance of Assets and Liabilities Possible in 1933.

BY FRANCIS W. CLARKE.

Georgia will be entirely out of debt, with a substantial surplus in her treasury, by the end of 1933 as a result of the added revenues which will be derived from the Boykin income tax law, according to figures secured by The Constitution Thursday.

This program would anticipate, of course, that the appropriations would not be increased by the legislature at its regular session next summer.

The audit of the state treasury as of January 1, 1930, showed a cash deficit of approximately $7,500,000, but against this deficit there was shown a total of almost $4,000,000 due to the state from various sources, practically all of which will be collected. The audit showed, therefore, an actual book deficit of only $4,000,000 at the beginning of this year.

Had the income tax law been held unconstitutional the appropriations for this year made at the last session of the general assembly would have been $2,000,000 in excess of the revenue of the state, thereby adding that much to the book deficit, making a total of nearly $6,000,000.

With the inclusion in this year's revenues, however, of more than $1,000,000 for the income tax of the last quarter of 1929, which will be due this spring, the estimated revenue of the state will be around $12,500,000, with appropriations in the neighborhood of $13,100,000, leaving a deficit in the operating expenses for the current year of only about $1,000,000.

$4,000,000 Is Expected.

The revenue to be secured from the income tax is, of course, problematical, but the lowest estimate has been on the basis of $4,000,000 with other estimates running above $5,000,000. For the purpose of the tabulations presented in this summary of the state's prospective financial condition, the lowest estimate is used. It is agreed that under no condition could the figures fall below $4,000,000 per year.

Also in the case of the sales tax a low basis is used, these figures being put at $1,500,000. The probability is that they will exceed that amount, in the estimation of tax experts at the capitol.

The state, therefore, will enter 1931 with an actual book deficit of approximately $5,000,000 but will during the year receive for the first time a full 12 months' revenue from the new income tax law. For that year the appropriations will be the same as in 1930 but the revenues will jump to $15,000,000.

The same situation will exist in 1932, provided the general assembly at its session next summer does not increase the appropriations. It is probably, however, that a broadening of many of the special taxes will be undertaken, which would considerably increase the revenues of the state. In case this were done the date of the wiping out of the present deficit would be advanced.

Surplus For 1930.

Thus it will be seen that with the revenue from the income tax and the collection of the nearly $4,000,000 due the state on the first of this year, the present deficit would be completely wiped out in 30 months' time, with all revenues for the latter half of 1933 being available for a surplus fund.

This surplus fund by the end of 1934 would be large enough to pay all appropriations each year out of the actual revenue received, and have as a balance the $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 of tax moneys which are payable after January 1.

Until such a surplus fund is established, it will not be possible for the state to have an actual cash balance at the end of each year, on account of the holdover taxes. While the income tax will permit the wiping out of the present deficit by 1933, with the books of the state balancing as between assets and liabilities, as represented by appropriations due and holdover taxes, it will be necessary for the state to be actually $3,000,000 ahead in its finances before an actual cash balance can be reached. Such a cash balance, however, would mean that the state's book balance would show a surplus of several millions.

EDITORS DENOUNCE JOURNALISM SCHOOL

Say Colleges Not Turning Out Good Workers; Defend Freedom.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—Criticism of the work of schools of journalism, warning against unjust legal censorship of newspapers and caution against permitting press agents to "graft space" in news columns and thus mislead readers marked the opening session here today of the annual conference of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Sam M. Williams, editor-in-chief of the St. Paul Dispatch and the St. Paul Pioneer Press, presenting the report of the committee on schools and departments of journalism, for George B. Armstrong, managing editor of the Hartford Journal, the committee chairman, bluntly told the editors that the schools of journalism were not accomplishing their purpose and turning out successful newspapermen.

"The schools of journalism themselves are remiss," Williams said, "for the unsatisfactory product that is being foisted upon the newspapers. We have found that many of the graduates of the schools of journalism have selected that course as the easier way of getting through college and in our own offices we have found that only one out of twenty graduates of the schools make good."

The report presented by Williams urged that schools of journalism be made graduate institutions and said it was a mistake to push trained school subjects into an academic college curriculum.

Edward H. Butler, editor and publisher of the Buffalo Evening News and president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association also mentioned schools of journalism. Asserting that one of the important problems confronting the newspaper industry was to find some method of adequately training youths in the work, Mr. Butler said that an editor employing a graduate of a school of journalism "should have the right to feel that the applicant has bridged many gaps that the average newcomer would have to overcome in the course of his regular work."

Walter M. Harrison, of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times, president of the society told instances where attempts had been made to curb the freedom of the press and warned the editors they must "stand up for what they know to be their privileges." He asked support of the Chicago Tribune's campaign against the Minnesota "gag" law through which a newspaper was suppressed for attacking a public official. He also urged support of bills now before congress intended to permit newspapermen to refuse to divulge on the witness stand information received as confidential.

This subject also was referred to by Marlen Pew, editor of Editor and Publisher, who deplored attempts to curb the press through the courts. Pew reviewed efforts of certain financial interests to control newspapers in widely scattered sections of the country and of efforts of some interests to spread propaganda through use of the press. The first he said had been exposed and failed while the second class of press agents he said.

"With cash to burn, the power agents made a poor showing. They did much bragging in letters to each other but the net result they got printed wouldn't influence anything."

Seven Are Arrested In Narcotics Raids

City detectives and federal narcotic agents were again active late Thursday afternoon. A raid on a room in a downtown hotel netted them "dope" valued at $500 and four prisoners who are being held at police headquarters pending a hearing before a United States commissioner today.

Wednesday night the agents arrested three in connection with an alleged violation of the narcotic law. Those arrested Thursday afternoon were Edward Granger, 33; Mrs. Myra Shapiro, 24; Mrs. Billie Luke, 26, and Joe Luke, 29, all of New Orleans, La. The two city detectives who figured in both the Wednesday and Thursday raids were W. D. McGee and W. W. Ford. The federal narcotic agents Thursday were Williams, Miller, Bingham and Wilson.

Fifth 'Jake' Victim Files Damage Suit

Damages sought from the Bostwick Drug Company for paralysis alleged to have been caused by the firm's "Fluid Extract of Ginger" Thursday amounted to $75,000 when Otis Wood, of LaGrange, filed a petition asking for $10,000.

The suit filed by Attorneys E. T. Moon, of LaGrange, and Reuben Garland, of Atlanta, on behalf of Wood is the fifth of this nature filed within the past week or so. The plaintiffs charge that after drinking from bottles containing the alleged Jamaica ginger, they became paralyzed and are now crippled.

These Georgians are collaborating with the national research council science advisory committee under the chairmanship of Dr. Frank B. Jewett, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, in developing a science theme for the Chicago exposition.

WARSAW, Poland, April 17.—(AP) Clara Menzel, born in Warsaw, but a naturalized American citizen, who was arrested during searches among communists in anticipation of May Day trouble, was deported today to the frontier station of Zbanszyn.

When taken into custody she had a membership card in "the American communist labor party" issued in 1928.

She was allowed to enter this country on condition that she would not seek employment. Police who arrested her on her nineteenth day here alleged she was trying to get a job. She did not apply to the United States embassy for protection.

Alabama's Ban on Bolters Upheld by Supreme Court

Ruling Throws Out Appeal Because Brought by One Considered "Not a Member of the Party."

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 17.—(AP)—Confining its decision to the question of jurisdiction, the Alabama supreme court today sustained the Jefferson county court of equity in dismissing a petition for an injunction restraining the treasurer from using public funds for holding the democratic primary on August 12, from which Senator J. Thomas Heflin, candidate for re-nomination, and others were barred from participation as candidates.

Senator Heflin, Hugh Locke, Birmingham attorney, candidate for governor, and others who failed to support the national democratic ticket in 1928 were barred from participating as candidates in the primary in August, but no restriction was placed on them participating as voters.

The decision was on the appeal of Horace C. Wilkinson, Birmingham attorney, who filed suit in Jefferson county court of equity, as a taxpayer, to prevent use of public funds for the primary, which he contended was illegal because of the state executive committee's fixing different qualifications for candidates and voters.

The point of unconstitutionality raised by Wilkinson was not passed on by the court, which did not go into the merits of the case. Three justices concurred in the decision, one dissented and two who are candidates in the forthcoming primary recused themselves.

Both Wilkinson, in Birmingham, and Senator Heflin, at Washington, declined to comment on the decision before reading it, but E. W. Pettus, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, at Selma, declared the decision "was exactly in line with the opinion of the state committee touching on the issues passed upon."

Pettus stated the state committee would proceed with plans for the primary. Associate Justice Joel B. Brown, who wrote the decision, said that the case could be brought to the high court for decision through action in the law division of the circuit court "by a party member whose rights are affected by the executive committee's ruling, but not by a taxpayer."

"The question of jurisdiction is always fundamental," the decision stated. "It would amount to usurpation and suppression for a court to interfere with a matter over which it has no jurisdiction and its pronouncements would be without force."

The decision quoted from case law in which it was held that "Matters of political character are also out of the pale of a court of equity, no such jurisdiction having ever been conceded to chancery court, either in federal or state statutes, unless so provided expressly or impliedly by organization or statute laws."

In his dissenting opinion Associate Justice Thomas wrote: "I am of the opinion the complainant's taxpayers' bill to prevent illegal expenditures of public funds was well stated and grounded within the inhibition of the law, and believing the trial court committed a reversible error, I respectfully dissent."

POWER COMPANY ROLE IN PROSPERITY CITED

The part played in the community and state by the power company was outlined at a luncheon of the City Club at the Piedmont hotel Thursday by W. E. Mitchell, vice president and general manager of the Georgia Power Company, before approximately 40 members and visitors. Judge E. C. Koutz introduced the speaker, following a brief session of routine club business.

Pointing out the necessity for capital in the development of the state's resources and the vast strides made in recent years through its use, Mr. Mitchell declared the total investment in utilities in Georgia to be in excess of $600,000,000, and asserted that the power company has been largely instrumental in the rebuilding of the state's industry. He cited instances of entire industrial towns founded upon and thriving in the use of electric power.

As the biggest taxpayer in the state, the power company contributes extensively to the building of roads and schools, described by Mr. Mitchell as the two greatest needs of a state. Employing 5,000 persons with an annual pay roll of over $8,000,000, purchasing about $20,000,000 in supplies annually, carrying deposits in 175 banks, paying a freight bill of $500,000 and operating for more than 4,000 Georgia stockholders, the power company further contributes to the material welfare of the state, as seen in the figures divulged by Mr. Mitchell.

In fostering the industrial progress of the state the power company has done much in nationally advertising Georgia and its possibilities and working through chambers of commerce and trade boards in the building of instrumental in bringing 14 new industries representing an investment of $12,000,000 to the state during the past year, said Mr. Mitchell.

SIXTH U. S. CAVALRY HORSE SHOW FEATURE

With indications that the 1930 show is to be the largest and most colorful ever held here, Colonel Fitzhugh Lee, executive manager of the Atlanta Horse Show Association, announced Thursday that plans are being rapidly completed for the show to be held at Piedmont park Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, and that many entries are being received at Piedmont hotel headquarters.

Presence of the sixth United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, is expected to add considerable pomp to the show. The sixth will take an active part in the show as well as individual owners of horses throughout Georgia. The regiment, in full war regalia, has already left its post and will camp at various points before arriving here the latter part of next week.

The cavalry regiment will pitch its tents at Piedmont park and on Friday morning, April 25, the entire outfit will parade through the downtown section of Atlanta. Giving an even more military aspect to the horse show will be the presence of a number of high ranking army officers from the posts in the fourth corps area, coming here under orders of Major General Frank R. McCoy, commanding general of the area and a horse enthusiast himself.

Colonel Lee stated Thursday that work has already been started on a grandstand at the park to seat 1,000 persons, including 100 box spaces. A total of 30 events will be on the program, 15 of which will be staged each day. Each section of each day's program will be preceded and followed by exhibitions by the sixth cavalry. First, second and third prize ribbons, in addition to other awards, will be given in each event.

Judges will be Claude Pemberton, of Elizabethtown, Ky.; Lieutenant Colonel Adna R. Chaffee, of the United States army cavalry, and Major John T. Kennedy, of the United States army field artillery. Officers of the Atlanta Horse Show Association include Hunt Chipley, president; R. W. Woodruff, vice president; Fitzhugh Lee, executive manager, and Theodore Goulsby, secretary and treasurer.

City Abandons Hope For Park Property

All hope of retention by the borough of any portion of the 410-acre Perkerson tract for park purposes was abandoned Thursday following a decision of heirs of the estate not to dispose of the property piecemeal.

Councilman Nelson T. Spratt, chairman of a special committee named by Mayor I. N. Bagdikian to investigate feasibility of retention of about 50 acres, made the announcement of the decision of the Perkerson heirs Thursday.

"The Perkerson estate representatives suggested that the city, county and United States government combine in purchase of the acreage," said Mr. Spratt. "They seemed to believe that a portion of the tract could be utilized as an air landing field for mail planes, while the remainder could be devoted to park purposes. Whether this will prove feasible, I cannot say."

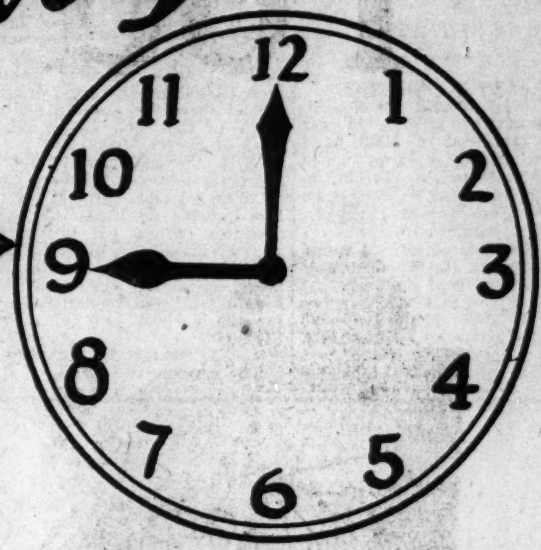

"In view of the grand jury's recommendations that the city return the park to the owners, I can see no plan just now for the city to take it over, even if it had the money."

Reduced Rate Given Children at Circus

Due to the fact that today is a holiday in all Atlanta schools, Shriners are making a special offer to school children from the elementary through the high school grades, to attend the matinee performance of the Shrine Circus at the city auditorium at 3 o'clock this afternoon. All will be admitted for 15 cents rather than the 50 cents which is the usual price of admission.

Shrine officials Thursday night stated that so far the circus has been a great financial success, and each performance, including Monday, had been attended by large audiences. The special admission for school children will be effective only for the matinee this afternoon, they stated.

Besides being the neighborly constructive force in this great Metropolis --- the Home-owned Independent Merchant and Manufacturer governs his entire business activities by what he knows you want him to do--- Profits are a necessary part of his business but they are not allowed to force him into the adoption of inflexible rules that work hardship or unpleasantness on you.

His business policy is arranged to meet your every want---should it be necessary for you to have your order delivered, he stands ready to render that service, rain or shine --- Most of us experience times when ready cash is not available; at times like this, your Independent Merchant is prepared to meet that contingency by an extension of credit.

The Emperor of America

by Sax Rohmer

Thirty-Third Installment.

Instantly came an order. "Cover No. 1 and party. Advise division chief D. File quarter-hourly reports of movements of Ned W. Regan and Commissioner Burke. Zone Officer 3 C is responsible for Grop Master 2, Sector 3 C 2, unreported. Advise zone officer. Instruct group master in charge seaplane G await Ruritania's dropping pilot and report. Division Chief C to be admitted by entrance two. Move."

The red light went out. "What makes you think there's a man overboard?" the pursuer asked. "Well," said the second, "four people have said so. A couple of deck hands report that two men went overboard a minute before we pulled out."

"Making three," growled the pursuer. "Any more trouble?" "Yes. The Duchesse De Greuze went ashore at the last moment. Her maid's left in charge of her gear."

"In the wardrobe?"

"That poor devil had a premonition of what was coming to him," said Roscoe. "Later, we can tabulate what we've learned, because we'll learn no more, from him."

"You mean he was murdered?" said Peter Champion hoarsely.

Madame Czerna spoke listlessly. "I knew he would be murdered," she said.

"Position is," said Page Sutton bitterly, "that we have lost millions to this zone gang. Now they're covering us again. We're fugitives in our own country. When we get ashore what do we do?"

"Remains to be seen," Roscoe answered dryly. "You're by no means alone."

There was no moon, and a long oily swell stirred the sea when the Ruritania dropped her pilot. Only a few passengers witnessed the event. Stopford went down the ladder first, followed by a slender boy whose trousers didn't seem to fit too well. Gauzy frocks and high-heeled shoes are no sort of kit for this kind of work, and Madame Czerna had availed herself of Stopford's wardrobe.

Then came the pilot and a couple of hands with baggage. Next Page Sutton managed to transfer without accident.

Peter Champion was standing at the head of the ladder, hesitating, when the ship's searchlight suddenly came to life and swept the dark, heaving breast of the ocean.

"Pilot just leaving, sir," said the officer superciliously and well aware that time was valuable. Then:

"Follow me, Mr. Champion," came a peremptory voice. "Watch your step."

Roscoe appeared out of the shadows and went over to the ladder.

"Can I be of any assistance, sir?" the ship's officer asked.

Peter Champion grinned wryly. "Thanks all the same," said he. "I guess I can make it!"

On the bridge, "Pilot away, sir," somebody reported.

But Sir Harry Bristol and two of his officers were forreaching their glasses on a seaplane whirled by, as the lights picked her up, had skimmed swiftly westward, and now, pursued by the white beam, was taking the air.

Bristol turned. He directed.

He gave the signal which meant in effect:

"All out for Cherbourg."

The door of a house on an east side street opened in response to the ringing of the bell. A man entered and the door was closed quickly. There was no light in the lobby. As the car in which he had arrived drove off westward:

"H. Q.," said the new arrival. "Anything to report?"

"No."

The second voice spoke out of the stuffy darkness.

"Stand by," the first directed.

There was a sound of movement. Then the man who had just arrived switched up a light in the room which he had entered and looked about him briefly.

He wore evening kit covered by a light overcoat, and a soft black hat. His pale features had a Napoleonic contour. Finding the room empty, he quitted it and descended a staircase into another room, semi-subterranean. He locked the door behind him. Fully half an hour elapsed, however, before a figure wearing a black robe took his seat in a high-backed Spanish chair ornamented with stamped leather, behind a long, narrow table set before the western wall of the room.

A ghastly yellow mask and rubber gloves of the same smooched substance effectually disguised his identity. One of the flexible yellow hands manipulated a keyboard. A man wearing a black half-mask entered through an arched doorway on the right, bowed, and stood still. A further manipulation and a similar figure entered from the left. A third entered behind the first and a fourth behind the second. Then:

"Divisional chiefs," said the musical voice of the mummy-like creature: "Number."

They answered in oddly varied tones:

"A."

"B."

"Division B," continued the uncanny president, "you are newly appointed, and your first divisional duty will be an important one. Tomorrow night, all divisions will be concentrated upon the Broadway area. It is because of the importance of their operation that you are here in person. The zones require new capital. Tomorrow night we shall acquire it!"

Dr. Stopford paced the room restlessly. Drake Roscoe watched him.

"I asked you to come back, Stoppy," he said, almost apologetically, "and to bring Madame Czerna, because I feel that her knowledge of the zones is invaluable."

"Splendid!" said Stopford. "But I want to marry her, and you've lugged me back into all this murder piffle. Oh! I'm not grousing, Roscoe. I know the thing's too big for a man to grouch. But you know how I feel about her."

"I know every time," Roscoe replied warmly. "It was fine of you to come. She is safe enough at the moment, but I admit—"

Stopford finished the sentence for him.

"That her future prospects are pretty bloodsome," said he.

Roscoe nodded, smiling grimly. "We thought," he went on, "that the New York Zones had been cleaned up. We raided their headquarters, with its mass of secret passages, elevators, laboratories, and so forth. It was only then, Stoppy, that we learned the truth. The Zones are not confined to New York city. There are Zones in every city! We smashed one Head Centre. There are heaven knows how many other Head Centres. And there's a Great Head Centre controlling the lot of 'em! They have been quiet for a while. They are active again."

"So it seems," said Stopford dryly. "They have established new headquarters," said Roscoe. "The thing I thought was dead is alive again, and buzzing. The Zones are active. Head Centre is back, the spider in the center of the web. Meanwhile, look at this."

He tossed a note upon the table. Stopford bent over it, read, and then:

"An invitation from the Duchesse de Greuze," he murmured, "to join her in her box at the Roxane theater on Sunday for the gala performance in honor of the King of Turkistan. Charming woman! I take it you'll go?"

"I shall go," Roscoe returned. "And I admit she's a charming woman. But—"

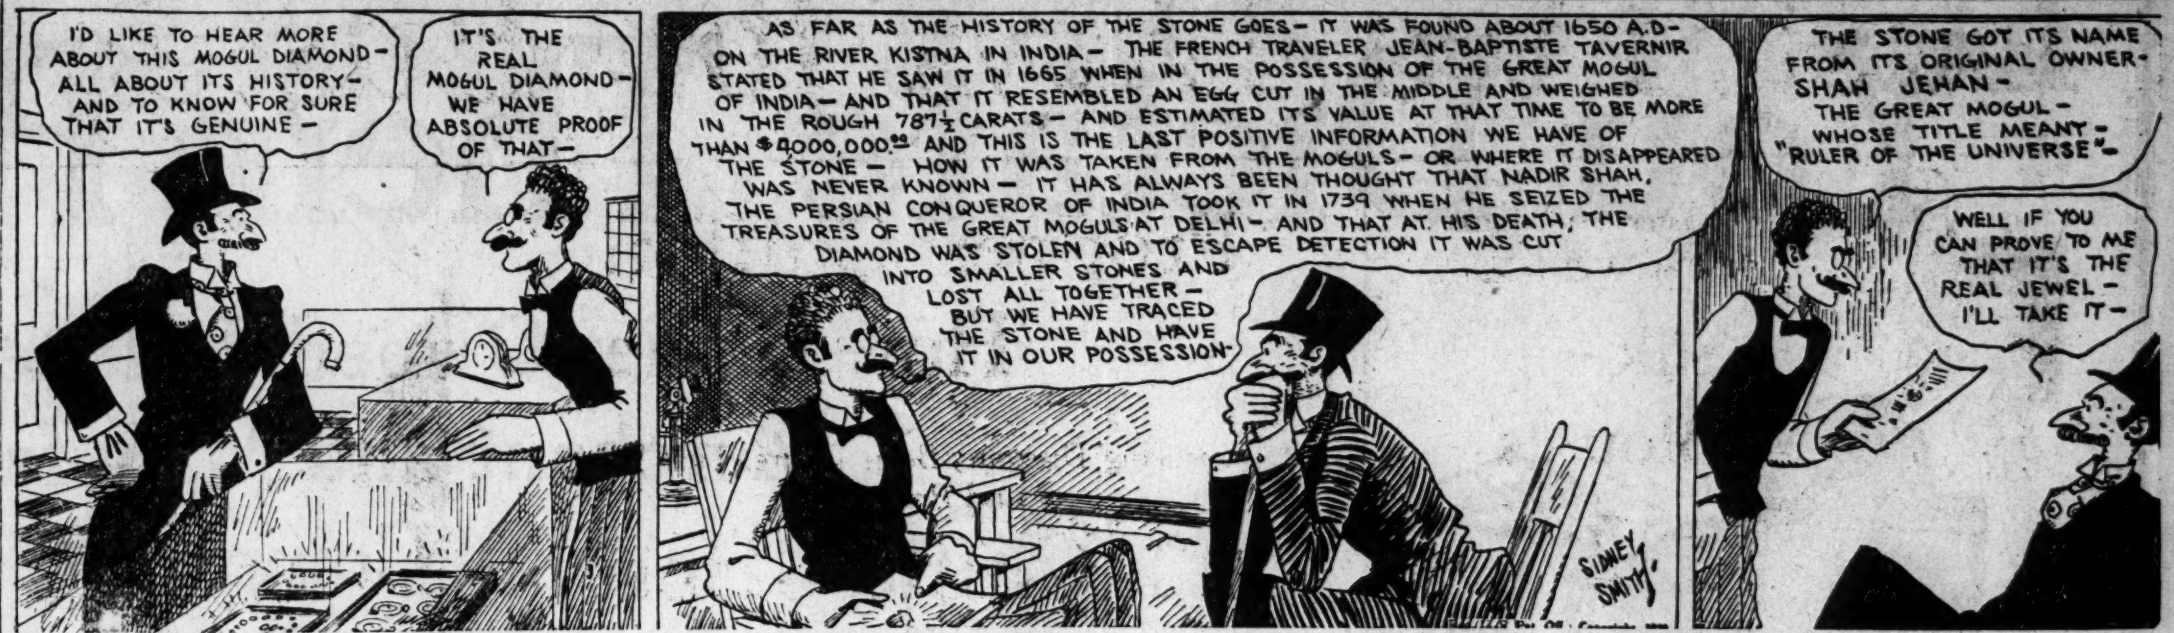

"But what?" Stopford demanded.

"I'm groping in the dark," Roscoe confessed. "To put it bluntly, I don't trust the Duchesse de Greuze. But the Zones have never hitherto attempted open assassination. They have always covered themselves. I don't think I'm in any danger of being shot in a box at the Roxane theater. But I have an uneasy notion that there's something afoot regarding the King of Turkistan."

Grape Juice for Health Physicians Recommend It

A Brain-Sharpener. Pure grape juice, served as a breakfast fruit, is so perfectly adapted to the human system that its rich fruit nourishment and mineral salts are taken into the blood stream without digestive effort—quick, new vigor to meet the awaiting problems of the day!

Non-Fattening. Pure grape juice deserves a prominent place on every reducing diet—first, because it supplies the kind of nourishment the body needs; secondly, because it is non-fattening. Its mildly laxative qualities keep one feeling fit and fine.

A Delightful Refreshment. For more than 60 years Welch's Grape Juice—the pure juice of luscious Concord grapes—has proved a delightfully refreshing beverage for millions of people. Six liberal portions to the pint make it the most temptingly delicious soft drink in America. Many prefer it diluted with one-third water. Insist on Welch's—pure, unadulterated.

Booklet on novel ways of serving Welch's—free. Write Welch's, Dept. E, Westfield, N. Y.

HAD GAS PAINS AND BAD TASTE

Georgia Lady Tells How She Has Been Benefited by Black-Draught.

Gainesville, Ga.—"I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught for about thirty years, writes Mrs. L. L. Freeman, of 121 Grove Street, this city.

"I used to suffer with constipation. This caused me to have a tired feeling, and very severe headaches, bad taste in my mouth and gas pains. I wouldn't have an appetite, and did not feel equal to my work.

"I found Black-Draught quick to relieve, so I have used it off and on all these years. It is harmless and easy to take. I can recommend it most highly.

The medicine which this Georgia lady mentions is the same Theodor's Black-Draught which thousands of men and women have recommended because of the good results obtained from its use.

It is a purely vegetable preparation of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Easy to take—no bad after-effects. Refuse imitations. Get the genuine, in a yellow package, marked "Theodor's."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Adventures of Seckatary Hawkins

THE SAD FACED LADY, WHOM WE HAD COME TO SET FREE FROM HER UNDERGROUND PRISON, SMILED AT THE SKINNY GUY. LUCIO WAS BESIDE ME NOW, AND TEARS RAN DOWN HIS CHEEKS. "YOU TELL HIM, HAWKINS," HE SAID, HOARSELY, "TELL HIM—IT'S HIS MOTHER!"

I STOOD LIKE A STONE STATUE, TOO SURPRISED TO MOVE OR SPEAK. AFTER ALL THESE YEARS—TAKEN AWAY FROM HER WHEN HE WAS BUT A BABY—"LINK," I SAID, SOFTLY, "UNCLE RAFAEL LIED TO YOU, YOUR MOTHER IS NOT DEAD—"

"YOU ARE TALKING TO HER NOW!" THERE WAS A TENDER, EAGER LOOK IN LINK'S EYES. HE STARED AT THE SAD FACED LADY. "YOU," HE SAID IN A WHISPER, "IS IT TRUE?" HIS VOICE BROKE INTO A SOB—THE SAD FACED LADY HELD OUT HER ARMS.

"MY BABY BOY!" SHE SAID AND HER VOICE SHOOK. "AFTER ALL THESE YEARS, GOD HAS SENT YOU BACK TO ME!—COME TO MY ARMS!" LINK CLASPED HER ABOUT THE NECK. "OH, MOTHER, MOTHER!" HE SOBBED. "MY BOY!" SAID THE SAD FACED LADY—"MY BOY—MY BOY!"

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

UNC' BILLY FOLLOWS MR. QUACK. BY THORNTON W. BURGESS. In judgment he is far from sound. Who counts his eggs before they're found. —Old Mother Nature. Unc' Billy had chosen an old hollow log wherein to take a nap. All night long he had hunted for the nest of Mrs. Quack. He had hunted in vain. Now he was tired. So within two minutes after he had curled up in that hollow log he was fast asleep. He slept a long time. There was no hing to disturb him. That hollow log was in the little swamp between the Snilling Pool and the Big River. It was near the bank of the Laughing Brook. Once Billy Mink left the bank along which he had been running and peered into that hollow log. He wrinkled his nose. "Huh!" said Billy to himself. "What is Unc' Billy Possum doing down here? The old rascal ought to be up in the Green Forest. Well, I won't bother him."

So Billy Mink went his way and Unc' Billy Possum continued to sleep. When at last he awoke he couldn't think for a moment where he was. He yawned two or three times and then crawled out and stretched. Then he remembered how he happened to be there. He also realized that he was very hungry. He had been so intent on finding Mrs. Quack and her nest of eggs the night before that he hadn't taken time to catch anything to eat.

"Ah reckon Ah'll eat me a frog or two and then Ah'll have another look for Mrs. Quack's nest," said he, and straightway headed for a little marshy opening along the Laughing Brook. He found his frogs there. He caught two and then he felt better. Then he began to think of those eggs. He was sitting half hidden by a clump of ferns, trying to make up his mind what to do next, when he caught a glimpse of a green head. From where he sat the head was all he could see. He knew it for Mr. Quack's head and he knew that Mr. Quack was swimming in the Laughing Brook.

A look of great cunning crept into Unc' Billy's eyes. Very cautiously he stole forward to a point where he could see better. "Brer Mallard done gwine to lead me straight to that nest."

For Nervous Women

MRS. PORTER L. ARNOLD 1013 So. St. Andrews Street, Dothan, Ala. "What a wonderful help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. I was so nervous and rundown I couldn't be up half the time. When I had taken one bottle of Vegetable Compound I could tell I felt better, so I took seven bottles and I recommend it highly. It helped my nerves and keeps me strong to do my housework and wait on four little children. I hope some other suffering woman will try it."—Mrs. Porter L. Arnold.

MRS. JESSIE COOK R. No. 2, Box 88A, Murphy, N. C. "I was very weak and nervous and I took fainting spells. My side gave me a lot of trouble too. Associated Press Financial Editor.
NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Trading on the New York Curb Exchange closed divided to the usual pre-holiday proportions today, with the price movement irregular but generally upward. Flurries of selling swept through the market at intervals, but offerings were well absorbed, and most of the leaders closed around the day's high prices.

In the public utility group American Light & Traction, Electric Power & Light, optional warrants, Sierra Pacific Electric, Southwest Gas Utilities and United Light & Power all moved up on new high ground, gains that ran from 1 to nearly 4 points. Electric Bond & Share closed more than a point higher at 116 1/2 and National Electric advanced to within a small fraction of the year's top.

Oil played a firm undertone, Cossden preferred jumping 5 points while Vacuum and Ohio Oil preferred showed net gains of 1 3/4 and 1 point, respectively. Cumberland Pipe Line showed a net gain of 5 points at 65 after touching a new high slightly above that figure.

Morrison Electric touched a new high at 48 on reports that March sales showed a gain of 43.6 per cent above the same month last year. Fox Theaters moved into new high ground on reports that the Loew's stock held by it would be sold to General Theaters Equipment at a price substantially above current market quotations. International Cigar Machinery soared 14 1/4 points to a new high at 120 in response to reports of expanding earnings.

New York Investors and Mayflower Associates were the strong spots in the investment trust group. Goldberger Stores, National Family Stores and a few other inactive specialties sold at new low prices for the year.

All Atlanta Twins Invited To Fox Monday Afternoon

THE FRADO TWINS.

To emphasize twins in general and invite the attention of the play-going public to a famous pair, the Frado Twins, who headline the bill at the Fox next week in Fanchon & Marco's "Types Idea," Division Manager R. T. Newton is inviting all twins, regardless of sex, age, or anything else, to be the guests of the Fox at the 4 o'clock show next Monday afternoon.

Theater Programs LEGITIMATE STAGE.

ERLANGER—"Your Uncle Dudley." New York and Chicago, the famous "Mike and Ike" are notorious as laugh-producers. When all and sundry twins who present themselves at the Fox office Monday afternoon are duly assembled it is planned to photograph them together and show the world that Atlanta boasts as many twins to the square mile as any other city.

DOWN TOWN THEATERS.

FOX—"Blaze of Glory." All-talking feature, with Eddie Dowling and Betty Compson. News reel, Fox Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Enrico Leiva. Iris Wilkins at the organ. Don Wilkins and stage hand. News feature, "The Kisses Idea." CAPITOL—"The Learned About Women." All-talking feature, with Van and Schenck and Bessie Love. News reel and short subjects. Sayle Taylor, who is offering "Married Love," a presentation on sex truths in the marital relation, will speak to audiences of women only at his regular hours of 2:30 and 8:30, and in addition will give a special presentation for professional and business women at 6 o'clock.

Dr. Taylor, now in his fourth week at the Rialto, has appeared before capacity audiences at most of his previous night and matinee presentations, drawing intense enthusiasm from his hearers and winning the endorsement of all who hear him. He brings a message of hope to thousands of married men and women who, through ignorance of basic laws of sex have lost health, youth and, only too frequently, the love of their undying partners. Under 15 are not admitted at any hour. Tomorrow Dr. Taylor will speak to women only at 2:30 and to men only at 8:30. He is assisted each performance by Professor Samuel E. Olmstead, physical culture expert, who gives a remarkable demonstration of perfect body health and vigor.

Continued Rain Brings Talk of Postponing Baseball Openings

ATTENDANCE CUT BY FREQUENTLY DELAYED GAMES

Most Eastern Clubs Play Less Than Two-Thirds of April Card.

By Frank Getty,

United News Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(UN)—Another day in which rain and cold caused cancellation of major league ball games in the east has raised anew the question of whether club owners may not be forcing the season in starting their schedule so early in April.

Experience of the past few seasons has shown that they cannot expect to play more than two-thirds of the games scheduled in the east before May 1. On the other hand, it is obviously impractical to extend the playing season beyond September, especially in the west.

The major league magnates resent any suggestion to curtail the season as scheduled at present, although what with cold weather and the uncertainty caused by constant April rains it is doubtful if they really profit under the present system.

WEATHER UNCERTAIN.

Charles A. Stoneham and other eastern club owners, when approached for their views regarding the numerous postponements of the present and past few Aprils insisted firmly and unanimously that for all they knew the weather might be just as bad a fortnight later on.

The records show, however, that eastern clubs were able to play only two-thirds of the games they had scheduled in April, 1929, and they were not much better off in 1928, when they opened the season April 11. Naturally the owners are reluctant to shorten the season and schedule more double-headers, yet the way it works out they have to give the fans these double-headers anyhow.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECT.

From a psychological point of view, one which the magnates may have overlooked, there might be much to be said for a later opening. Interest in baseball—and attendance, naturally—is based upon the interest fans take in the game—is cumulative. If the playing season could get going and stay going for a while, thousands of new fans would be added to the roster of regular customers. But when the season opens with a bang and then fizzles along with postponements because of cold and moisture, the ardor of the fans, stirred up by

The Luck Is Sure To Change

Johnny Dobbs, manager of the Cracker ball club, was presented a floral horseshoe before the Thursday game by his fellow-members of the Elks' Club. The luck didn't change yesterday, but it will. Dr. Herbert B. Kennedy is shown presenting the good luck piece and Dobbs is receiving it. Behind Dr. Kennedy stands Paul Bancroft of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The young man smiling at the left is Joe Engel, owner of the Lookouts. Ball players of both clubs gathered about during the presentation.

floral horseshoe. The services were conducted at home plate. Around about stood L. W. (Chip) Robert, Bobby Jones, H. Y. McCord, R. J. Spiller, of the Cracker executive staff; Mrs. John Knox, of the Atlanta Junior League, the sponsor for the day; John D. Martin, president of the league; Joe Engel, emperor of Chattanooga, and all the ball players.

Then Mrs. Knox, donning a player's cap, was escorted to the mound in company with Chip Robert. Bobby Jones and Lee Meadows, the veteran spectacular pitcher for the Crackers, Chairman McCord put on a cap and took Art Yelle's glove at home plate.

Mrs. Knox threw a beautiful in-drop to the plate. The ball broke so sharply that it hit Fat Elrod, who was nearly going about the business of announcing on the foot. However, Mr. McCord retrieved the ball and tossed it high in the air and almost caught it as it fell.

And away they went.

The crowd in the grandstand was comfortable in seats. Only the bleachers stripped to the conventional shirt sleeves. The refreshment vendors began their summer season, tramping on countless toes, to quench the suddenly acquired thirst.

The crowd roared at the antics of "Steamboat" behind the plate. The girls screamed as prominent athletes hit easy fly balls and sat silent as infielders handled impossible chances.

"Wild Bill" Rodgers, Chattanooga manager, leaped and yelled and danced on first base line as his club took an early lead.

Johnny Dobbs followed him and clapped his hands in the familiar manner.

But the crowd did not fall in line and clap with Johnny.

That was the missing note in the conglomeration uproar. When Johnny used to clap the Barons around the path, the crowd amused itself by "mocking" him; he countered by tricking them with fake movements; it was a great game in other years.

Now Johnny is clapping for our side, but by a reverse psychology the fun in the by-play has departed. It is just one too many to figure out.

John D. Martin sat in a private box with Cracker officials. He radiated confidence. The league would have a highly successful season with a close fight for the pennant certain to develop, etc.

Joe Engel also was a special guest. "Well, we won the first two," Joe said before the game, "but remember there are 152 games to play." Joe is modest to a fault. For a young man who opened his ball park to 15,184 people and won the first two games on the schedule, he might have snooted Atlanta a little.

GRIMES ANXIOUS TO HELP BRAVES WIN FLAG RACE

Veteran Spittballer Sorry Now He Isn't in Shape for Season.

By Edward J. Neil,

Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Barleigh Grimes, one of the last of the spitball masters, has a new hobby to add to his great loves—thoroughbred horses and the winning of baseball games. He wants to help Bill McKee build the Boston Braves into a pennant contender in the National league.

Burleigh sat around a hotel lobby, puffing a big cigar, improving the acquaintance of his new Brave mates, and bemoaning the fact that he isn't ready yet to get out there and fatten his pitching average in these "soft" spring games where batting eyes are none too brilliant.

Grimes, an inveterate wanderer on the face of the baseball earth, has no regrets at being pitched for Brooklyn, New York, and the Pirates for two different periods during 14 major league campaigns. Now if he can find a nice place to exercise his fine saddle horses in Boston he'll be perfectly content.

Jacket Fencers Meet N. C. U. Next

Eight swordsmen, representing the Georgia Tech R. O. T. C., will leave Atlanta tonight bound for Chapel Hill, where they are to clash with the Tarheel fencers of the University of North Carolina Saturday night.

The match will be the second competitive venture of the Engineers, who met the Emory fencers at the Flats Monday night.

Student Coach Paul Wimberly, R. M. Arnold, R. J. Brooke, W. A. Ruth and H. W. Starr compose the fencer squad. Professor Morenus and Miss Ruth Brooke, the sponsor, will accompany the team.

GOOD GOLF

In any group of dominant golfers individual styles may differ widely. Horton Smith's style differs from that of Mac Smith; Hagen does not resemble Evans at all when he swings, while the rubber-like resiliency of Al Espinosa does compare with the ease and grace of Jones in action. In golfing form, however, they all stand on common ground. What, then, is good golfing form? It is the art of swinging your club with smoothness, ease and naturalness of action so that a liquid-like flow of power is applied to the ball, all action being rhythmic throughout. But to do that is a large-sized order. This definition of form is reducible finally to eight words: It is the art of swinging the club. And that final definition of form requires a considerable stressing if the average golfer is to play better golf. It is the branching-off point in golfing progress.

(Little golfing progress can be attained until basic form rules are applied. One of these has to do with grips. Without this fundamental grip principle the club cannot be swung as a direct hit at the ball. Mr. Horton has put effective grip coaching into printed form, and this will be mailed you, free, if you wish it. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ed Danforth, sports editor, The Constitution, asking for Mr. Horton's monograph on grips and stances.)

HORSE GUARDS AND McPHERSON CLASH SUNDAY

Good Polo Expected When Teams Meet on Post Field.

By Ben Cothran.

Another tactical problem, bearing all the hallmarks of being a very tough one, faces the galloping quartet of the Governor's Horse Guard as it opens its polo season Sunday afternoon playing Fort McPherson on the latter's field.

Last season when the guardsmen started out on their series of Sunday games against the army team they were a complete success at losing every game played until, towards the middle of the season, Moran changed the line-up, new mounts were added to the string and victories came in with regularity.

This spring, McPherson's line-up will be carrying a name that wasn't there last summer. Young Lieutenant William Biddle was transferred to the post during the winter and the way he nurses that ball down the field and right between the goal posts is something very good to look at. He does it with regularity and bottling Biddle is the job for the Horse Guards this year.

The fourth corps area headquarters and McPherson teams played the season's opening game Sunday afternoon at the post and the army team won by five goals to four. Lieutenant Biddle played on the area team and scored four of the five goals. He is one of the best players to be stationed at McPherson in several years and will strengthen the army side considerably this season.

The Horse Guards Sunday will present their usual line-up of Gay at one, Christian riding at two, Love at three and Moran, team captain, back. They have been practicing for the past month and should be in a good shape for the game, although McPherson holds an advantage due to the fact it played in three games at Augusta recently and divided its squad for the game last Sunday. And just as in any other sport, you've got to get your opening games out of the way before you hit your stride.

McPherson will probably line up Sunday afternoon with Biddle, Wing, Franke and Tolson. This seems to be the strongest combination and should be a most troublesome one.

TRUMBULL SAYS FEW ATHLETES ARE STANDOUTS

No Pitchers in Class With Matty; Fighters Are Off.

By Walter Trumbull.
Copyright, 1938, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Every once in a while a champion rises so far beyond all challengers that the contenders are outclassed. Then there seem to come intervals when a sport shows no outstanding figure.

We all remember when no man tennis player had any real chance to beat Bill Tilden. Billy Johnston and Vinnie Richards could be depended upon to give Tilden a fierce contest, but when it came to the championship, Tilden was an outstanding bet. In women's tennis the same condition existed when Suzanne Lenglen was at her best.

COCHET BEST.
Today we know that Cochet probably can trim any player in the world when the little Frenchman is at top form, but he doesn't stand as high above opposition as did Tilden. Among the women Helen Wills Moody is supreme. There is no other woman in her class on the courts. She is one of the outstanding champions.

There was a day when certain pu-gillists were considered invincible. At the time Jeffries retired there was talk of matching two men against him on the same night. Dempsey in his prime had no real rival. Benny Leonard remained as undisputed king of the light-weights. Tunney, when he withdrew to private life, would have been an overwhelming favorite against any opponent. What light heavyweight could you class with Fitzsimmons?

MUCH DOUBT.
Today we don't know whether Sharkey can beat Schmeling or a couple of other fellows. The champions in the various classes are so insistent upon picking opponents and so loath to risk their titles that we don't know whether they are the best men or not.
In several cases we have an idea that they are not.

There are no pitchers in baseball who are the standouts that Matty and Johnson were at their best. Babe Ruth is still an outstanding baseball figure, but when the Babe is done, who can take his place?

HAMM BEST.
The track can show no present Pavlo Nurmi. There are many good sprinters and distance runners, but the trouble is that there are so many that it is hard to assert any one is best. It does look, though, as if Ed Hamm, of Georgia Tech, is the best man in the world in the running broad jump. Remarkable figures have been made in the shot put, but it would not be surprising if any one of two or three men beat the existing record.

Football has spread so widely through the United States that there is little basis for real comparison.
Anyone picking an all-star team could select a dozen backs or linemen and then not be sure he had named the best. The ingredients that go to make up a great back today are one-third

W. F. Phillips was high for three

SHOTTON BANKS ON PSYCHOLOGY AS 'THIRD MAN'

1-0 Victory Over Brooklyn Did "Us Worlds of Good."

By Brian Bell.

Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—

Burt Shotton thinks he has one player on his team, on the pay roll, who designed to play an important part in the season's campaign. Kid Psychology is the extra man for the Phillies.

"Winning that first game from Brooklyn, 1 to 0, will do us a lot of good," said Manager Shotton. "The psychology of that is great. It will be worth much more to us than if we had won 10 to 8 or some such score."
"Why here we are sized up by everybody as a team of sluggers with no pitchers. When the forecasts were being made the experts said, 'The Phillies would be dangerous if they had some pitchers.'"

BEST PITCHING.

"And then we step out the opening day and show the best pitching performance in either league, and mind you it's a game where we have to have almost perfect pitching to win."
"While we hit Clark harder than Brooklyn hit Sweetland, we didn't do what you would call hard hitting all afternoon, but we did score that one run we needed to win the game when we bunched a couple of hits."

"If that doesn't put psychology on our side, why not? Brooklyn can hit, too, which makes it all the more remarkable performance by our pitcher, Sweetland."

BIG SURPRISE.

"I guess that game was the big surprise of the opening. Some folks thought, I have no doubt, that we would be out there all the afternoon trying to get each other out and we cross everybody by putting on a pitchers' battle with some of the greatest fielding ever produced in any one game. That's baseball."

Shotton thinks he may enjoy the last laugh on his friends, who have sympathized with him because he has no pitchers. "I think the weakness of our pitching staff is very much exaggerated," he said. "We have already demonstrated under fire that we have one pitcher and in the games to come we will show some more."

IN THE RACE.

"I don't see how we can be kept from playing a big part in the National league race. That's the way the players feel about it and I agree with them."

"I'm sorry rain kept us from playing the second and third games. We need to play now and calling off these early games makes double-headers later on. That was one of our chief troubles last year—too many double-head-ers."

A friend, passing through the hotel lobby, stopped to wish "a lot of luck, Burt." "Yes, we will have some luck come our way," said Shotton. "And we'll make some for ourselves, too."

MISSISSIPPI'S REVIVAL.

Christian Cagle, the great Army star, has come back home.
He has been added to the staff at Mississippi A. & M. as assistant coach and will go to work next fall with Head Coach Dudy Nobles.

Cagle was the greatest athlete who ever came out of the river country. He played at Louisiana Polytechnic institute before winning an appointment to West Point.
Even then he was an outstanding ball carrier.

Cagle will have as a coaching opponent Chuck Smalling, the Stanford star, who will work at Ole Miss. Those two Mississippi schools are bitter rivals.

For several years the two Mississippi schools have been treated rather samelessly by their conference opponents. Both have shaken up their coaching staffs. They intend to improve their game if it takes every famous name on the American gridiron.

PEACHTREE CLUB TO HOLD SHOOT

Another of the regular weekly shoots at the Peachtree Gun Club traps will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with four events on the program. Trophies will be awarded the winners in each event.

The first on the program will be 50 single targets with a trophy to each six entries, club added bird handicaps applying and a leg on the singles trophy to the high scratch score.

Twelve pair of doubles will be the second on the program with a leg on the doubles trophy to the high scratch score.

The third event on the afternoon's card will be 25 distance handicap targets. No trophy will be awarded in that event.

Twenty-five whiz targets, with a trophy for each six entries, club added bird handicaps applying, and a leg on the whiz trophy to the high scratch score completes the program.

Psychology Tests Reveal Quarterback

MISSOULA, Mont., April 17.—The football world's first "synthetic quarterback" has been selected.

He is Cale Crowley, husky young University of Montana freshman, hailing from the thriving city of Butte.

Selected in a series of tests conducted by the university athletic and psychology department as the "perfect field general," possessing the necessary attributes of mental alertness, coordination of mind and muscle, coolheadedness and physical build Crowley will lead the Grizzlies in their gridiron attacks this fall. And he is scholastically "A. K."

Major Frank J. Milburn, former West Point football player, and head gridiron coach at Montana, is pleased with Crowley's selection. Already in practice the youngster has partially vindicated his unique selection by ripping off 10 to 15 yards in spring practice plunges and driving the Grizzly hopefuls with a fire and dash that is promising to say the least.

Crowley is 18, weighs 160 pounds in harness and stands five feet seven inches. Coach Milburn believes the boy's football future is bright.
The "synthetic quarterback" test was instituted at Montana when the coach was faced with the problem of finding a quarterback from among untried material. The school's psychology department aided the coach in finding the right man. Milburn hopes to fill other gaps in the Grizzly lineup by the same method.

Mike Firpo Loses.

MIAMI, Fla., April 17.—(AP)—Petro Corri, 188, New York, battered his way to a slight edge and a 10-round decision over Mike Firpo, 190, Tampa, here tonight. The fighters were evenly matched, and presented a give-and-take battle throughout the 10 stanzas.

Johnny Colangelo, 143, Little Falls, N. Y., took a 10-round semi-final go from Frankie Sacco, 142, New York, on a decision.

GEORGIA WINS SECOND GAME

came over when Daniels and Duck-man, the first two men up, were given bases on balls. Truskowski then came to the plate and hit a hard one to Simpson who threw wild to third, allowing Daniels and Duckman to score. McNeal hit to Simpson and was out at first. Superko walked and Butler got his second single of the afternoon which sent McNeal and Su-perko home. Tompkins hit to the infield to force Butler out at second and Hudson hit a long fly to Smith.
Michigan scored in the fourth and again in the sixth when J. Hill, who relieved McNeal, hit a long one into right field for three bases and scored when Superko followed him with a single.

For the first two innings the Buldog batsmen were unable to cope with McNeal's delivery and when they came to bat in the third they found themselves five runs behind. And so, they got busy. Gorman popped up to first; Simpson then followed and got a two-base hit to deep centerfield;
Day walked and Smith drove in Day and Simpson with a single. Rothstein then hit a hot one to short and McGaughey scored when the ball was thrown wild to first.

On the next play Smith scored when Davenport's third-base drive was dropped. Murdock and Tate both hit out to McNeal.

SCORING SPREE.

Georgia had her second scoring spree in the fifth. It was started by McGaughey's long drive to right centerfield for three bases. Smith then walked and both scored ahead of Rothstein when he drove one of Mc-Neal's offerings over the centerfield fence. It was a beautiful drive and cleared the wall by several feet. At this point Hill came in for McNeal and the next three batters were out in short order. The Bulldogs scored again in the seventh inning when Smith singled and stole second, then scored on Rothstein's drive over second base. This made the score 7 to 1.

Not satisfied with a one-run lead, the Red and Black players went to bat in the eighth inning to add three more runs to their total. Joe Costa started the fireworks with a double.
Roy Day got a two-bagger and stretched it into a three-base hit.
Costa scored on the play. McGaughey walked and Day was caught off third and put out. Then came Catfish Smith to add the finishing touch to his perfect day at bat. On the second ball thrown he drove a long fly which hit the ground and bounced over the centerfield fence. McGaughey scored ahead of Smith and the scoring was over for the day.

Georgia will meet the University of Alabama tomorrow and Saturday in a two-game series. Spurgeon Chandler is scheduled to do mound duty for Georgia.

Tallest Spar.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—The tallest single spar ever carried by a sailing vessel was shipped yesterday to the Enterprise, a candidate for the defense of the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V.
The huge mast towers 168 feet above the deck, completely dwarfing the hull. An elliptical hollow spar built up of nearly 200 strips of Alaskan spruce, glued together, the mast weighs 5,000 pounds. With the mast stepped it is expected that the Enterprise will set its first test under its 1,568 square feet of sail next week.

Purples Meet Cadets, Smithies Play U. S. B. in Prep League Today

T. H. S. LEADING WITH SIX WINS AND NO LOSSES

Good Pitching Features Play of High Schools in First Round.

By Roy White.

Only two baseball games will be played in the city prep league this afternoon, due to a holiday in the school system. Boys' High and G. M. A. will play at College Park and University and Tech High will play at Piedmont Park.

Marist and Decatur and Fulton and Russell were scheduled to play also but moved their games up. Fulton and Russell played Wednesday afternoon at East Point and Marist and Decatur played Thursday afternoon at Marist. Tech High, with six victories and no defeats, is leading the prep league by a comfortable margin. Marist and Boys' High are trailing in second place but each team has two victories and Marist has yet to play Tech High before the first half of the season ends.

BUSY WEEK.

G. M. A. has three postponed games to be played and an attempt will be made to play those games next week immediately after the first half of the schedule is completed.

With the exception of the Tech High team all the others are closely bunched. Fulton, with a veteran team, did not play up to its usual form and is in fourth place. The county lads have hit their stride and will likely finish the season in the first division. Marist suffered two unexpected defeats, but Coach Bear's team has improved considerably since the season opened. Russell, University, G. M. A., Decatur and Commercial are fighting it out for fourth place at present with each team having an equal chance. Boys' High is playing more outside games than the others and the strain is showing up on the pitching staff.

SMITHIES IMPROVE.
Coach Tolbert's team, with only two veterans to start with, has developed in leaps and bounds. The pitching staff, the best in the league, rounded into form early and it was due to the excellent pitching in the first few games that Tech High was able to win. The infield and outfield looked weak but with continued work both departments have been strengthened and the pitchers have let up in recent games after a safe lead has been piled up in the early innings.

Jack English and John Chambers have proven their usefulness as hurlers. Chambers surprised even Coach Tolbert with a one-hit victory over Boys' High in his first game.

English followed suit with a two-hit game. John Mable also has turned in a creditable game for the Smithies. The prep league has been featured by good pitching all the way through the first half. Each team's ace hurler has turned in at least one good game and it was Cook's excellent pitching for Commercial that gave Marist its first defeat two weeks ago.

Ready To Start the Home Season

Mrs. John Knox, of the Junior League, was sponsor of the Crackers' opener at Spiller field Thursday. She pitched the first ball and showed a fine attitude by attempting to rid the world of an announcer. She hit Fat Elrod on the foot instead of throwing to "Uncle Henry" McCord, the catcher.

In the picture above Mrs. Knox is shown receiving the ball from Lee Meadows, starting Cracker pitcher. Left to right: Chip Robert, president of the Cracker club; Bobby Jones, vice president; R. J. Spiller, business manager; Mrs. Knox, Meadows and H. Y. McCord, Sr.

CRACKERS LOSE THIRD STRAIGHT

Roy Grimes, Pinch Hitter, Swats Homer in Ninth Inning.

Double that brought in Gooch and Bigelow.

TOUGH BOY.
It is too bad that the Crackers did not buy Lamotte and send him to Devil's Island. He is no man to have on the other side.

The Crackers have stopped Elliott Bigelow for two days. He has been no terror at all. He may, of course, break out of his cell and give a wild yell and blast all the pitchers to some place or other at most any time. But he has been stopped for two days.

Those five runs were all the Look-outs got. They were enough. The Crackers, with their puny hits, got on in the third with two singles and an error. They got another in the seventh when St. Rosenthal hit a real one to right. He came home on a sacrifice fly.

Roy Grimes gave the Cracker crowd, a good one, too, its only real thrill with his home run. News that he will be in the line-up today and in the clean-up position at bat will be of considerable interest. He has the old power.

The Crackers had 12 men left on bases, which is a very bad place to be in a baseball game. The Cracker hitters simply haven't started.

TWO SUSPENSIONS.
Placing of Grimes in the line up followed a rather startling day. Milt Stock was suspended for two weeks until his injured leg is ready for action.

Don Brennan, righthanded pitcher, was suspended for failure to get in condition. He is overweight and has been unable to work with any success. Until Brennan's exhibition at Chattanooga, Wednesday it was generally thought that Ernie Koob would be suspended.

Today's game will begin at 3 o'clock. The Crackers and Lookouts end their series here Saturday.

Thomasville Goes In Diamond Loop

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 17.—There is much high fever in Thomasville. It does not require the attention of an M. D., however—unless, before the summer of 1936 is ended, it should need the services of a financial physician. It is baseball fever, and it has definitely carried Thomasville into the North Florida-South Georgia league.

League officials from Tallahassee and other Florida towns, have been in conference with baseball fans of this town and Thomasville voted to go into the league, for a season of 16 weeks, beginning Tuesday, May 6. The league will be made up of teams from three Florida towns—Tallahassee, Monticello and Perry, and three towns of southwest Georgia—Bainbridge, Thomasville and Quitman.

There will be two games for each team each week—one at home and one away from home—players must be amateurs and residents for at least 90 days prior to the opening of the season, on whose team they are to play, is situated. This means the Thomasville team will be made up of men from this place and from any of the other towns in Thomas county. And as a special concession, Thomasville team may use players from the 13-mile distant village of Beachton, which is in Grady county.

Other towns get concessions of an equivalent nature. In other words the league will be composed of teams from six Florida and Georgia counties, instead of, as heretofore, six towns, and might aptly be designated the "Six-County league."

Southeastern League

GOOD PITCHING.
SELMA, Ala., April 17.—Johnny Closser pitched the Pensacola Flyers to their second victory of the Southeastern league series with the Selma Leafs here today by a 4-to-1 score. Closser, who allowed the Leafs seven hits, was aided by brilliant fielding by his teammates.

TAMPA, Fla., April 17.—The Tampa Smokers made the series count two and one over the Jacksonville Tars here today by decisively winning, 7 to 3.

JACKSONVILLE, April 17.—The Jacksonville Tars won the first game of the series with the Tampa Smokers, 7 to 3, here today.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 17.—The Montgomery Lions played the first game of the Southeastern league series with the Columbus 12 to 8. The Lions had taken the first two games. Ford, Lion twirler, was never in danger. He allowed but seven hits.

TYPISTS SWAMP G. M. A., 23 TO 3; HURLERS SUFFER

Dodson Smacks Two Home Runs in Prep Slugging Bee.

Hitting four G. M. A. pitchers for a total of 24 hits, Commercial High defeated the Cadets, 23 to 3, Thursday afternoon at College Park in a game postponed from the opening of the city prep league season.

Farris led the attack with five out of seven, while Arnold was close behind with four out of six.

Dodson, of Commercial, hit two home runs in his first two trips to the plate. Included in the Farris and Arnold hits were a triple each and Davis contributed two doubles to the cause.

Cook, Commercial's speed ball artist, gave the Cadets only six well scattered hits and after his mates had piled up an eight-run lead in the first inning he let up and "eased" along the remainder of the game. He struck out 14 Cadet batters and aided in his own victory with two safe hits out of five times at bat.

Hackney and Mach were the hitting stars for the Cadets. Each secured two singles. Lago, Lowery, Snyder and Mach took turns on the mound but were ineffective.

Midget Wolgast To Fight Genaro

NEW YORK, April 17.—(P)—Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia youngster, recognized in New York state as the flyweight champion, agreed today to defend his title against Frankie Genaro, New York boxer, hailed as champion in this class by the National Boxing Association, in a 16-round match May 28, in Madison Square Garden.

Wolgast whipped Black Bill, of Cuba, in the Garden recently in the final bout of a tournament desired to name a new 112-pound champion. The class has had no generally recognized leader since the abdication of Fidel LaBarba several years ago.

Genaro agreed to terms for the match in a cable from Paris and sailed immediately for New York.

TED AND BAKER TRAINING HARD

Interest in Fight Here Mounts as Date Draws Near.

With both the principals for the Ted Goodrich-Sammy Baker fight next Tuesday training here, interest in the fight feature of the month showed a decided advance yesterday.

Baker came directly here from Pittsburgh, where he won a fight Monday night, to prepare for his Atlanta engagement. He is working out daily at Roby's gymnasium with Henry Johnson, a big, hard-punching scrapper.

Goodrich also resumed training, seeking to polish up his counter fighting, which was lacking when he fought in Chicago Monday night. He intends to lay Baker low and clinch his place in the front rank of welterweights.

Goodrich will meet a terrific puncher in Baker. The Alabama scrapper has knocked out Ace Hudkins, Mushy Callahan, Larry Estridge and Joe Silvers, four topnotchers. Such a punch will be no joke to face, and Goodrich will have to be in his best form to win from such a boy.

Max Abelson, matchmaker, is arranging a rattling good card of preliminaries to total 36 to 40 rounds. No advance in prices is being made for this show. A heavy guarantee is being paid Baker, but Goodrich is taking a percentage of the gate for his end.

CLASSIFICATION TAX URGED BY REALTORS

Atlanta Real Estate Board Urges Tax Amendment for Special Session.

Formal request that an amendment to the state constitution providing for classification of real and personal property for taxation purposes be presented for consideration at the special session of the legislature called by the governor has been made by the Atlanta Real Estate Board.

The realtor petition was communicated to Governor Hardman following a resolution adopted by the board meeting of officers and directors last Wednesday.

In line with the movement that has been sponsored by real estate interests throughout the nation to equalize property taxes, the request of the local realtor organization is seen as the outgrowth of agitation that has been given political recognition and support for a long time.

The communication from the governor points out that a tax classification of real and personal property, the provisions of which are generally known, would not only "very greatly increase the state revenue," but also have been proven in those states where the classification law is in effect, but would distribute the burden of taxation in a more equitable manner.

DR. SHELTON SPEAKS AT REVIVAL SERVICES

Spiritual bankruptcy is a condition necessary for acceptance of the plan of salvation as set forth by Christ, Dr. William A. Shelton, of Emory University, told a large audience Thursday night at the revival service at the Druid Hills Methodist church.

Dr. Shelton speaks every night at 7:45 o'clock and Dr. R. L. Russell, pastor, occupies the pulpit at 10 o'clock each morning.

"Just as a person must declare his assets and liabilities before the courts can judge him a bankrupt in the civil courts, so a sinner must lay bare his innermost soul before he can accept the plan of salvation which God has mapped out for the sinner's eternal life," Dr. Shelton said.

"The most important thing in this world is life, and the most important thing in the universe is eternal life. Citizenship in the kingdom of God is gained only through deep conviction, confession of sins, forgiveness and true service."

"There is no middle ground. After a sinner has confessed his sins and become sorry for the shameful manner in which he has abused the good things of life he must give up enough to quit his sinning."

Resolving to quit is not enough. Unless he gives up his sin, sin up, there is no salvation for him.

"Hell is full of those who made good resolutions but failed to live up to them."

"Faith is the title deed to lands and experiences not yet known, a great thinker has said. It takes faith to lead a Christian life, and the tens of millions of church members there are only a few who have that faith and who keep the vision of Christ's salvation clearly before them as pilot lights over the stormy and rebellious seas of sin."

Council To Decide Sixth Ward Contest

Hope for a compromise between Robert E. Gann, alderman, and Jack C. Hardy, councilman from the sixth ward, in selection of a successor to Councilman Hardy, who was elected in the bribe investigation of the Atlanta city hall, was dissipated Thursday night when it was learned that each will nominate a different candidate for the vacant post.

Mr. Gann will nominate Luke Arnold, attorney, while Mr. Hardy will place the name of Dr. Thomas L. White, druggist, in opposition to him in his last election, before council.

Councilman White resigned his post following conviction on several counts charging bribery.

Arnold Thursday night was endorsed for council by a group of sixth ward citizens meeting at the Williams Street school.
